NEW BUILDING ADDS MUCH TO CITY SCHOOLS

Addition To Facilities At Central High Is A Great Asset

PROSPECTS GOOD

Superintendent Clifton Is Pleased With Corps Of Teachers

The school year of 1923-24 promises to be one of the best ever enjoyed by the Coshocton public schools, especially the high and junior high schools, in the opinion of O. B. Clifton, superintendent of schools.

The new addition to the Central high school will be ready to open soon, and with it will open new opportunities for learning.

Sixteen class and study rooms will become available with the opening of the addition, together with a large gymnasium and a complete vocational department in the basement.

The vocational department will be particularly pleasing to high school students. It includes a wood-working room, a sewing room, cooking room, machine shop, agricultural room and a small laundry.

The laundry will be used to instruct girls how to properly launder their garments, after they have completed them in the sewing department.

Five miniature kitchens have been constructed in the cooking room. There is space for four girls to work in each kitchen, and each group of girls will be responsible for the condition of their kitchen.

Large double doors lead from the driveway on the south side of the building into the machine shop, to permit the entrance of automobiles, tractors and all nature of farm machinery for students to work on.

The new gymnasium will bring delight to the hearts of local high school sport fans. For many years a need has been felt for a gym that will accommodate the large number of fans who like to attend high school contests. This need is met by the new gymnasium. Tiers of seats around three sides of the floor and a balcony around all four sides provides seats for 850 persons, all within full view of the gym floor.

Temporary seats can be arranged on the gym floor to accommodate 800 more persons for a public gathering or community meeting. New shower baths have been installed, that provide the utmost privacy. There are separate rooms for home and visiting teams of both boys and girls. All the shower rooms have passage ways leading directly to the gymnasium.

The old gymnasium is to be used exclusively for the physical training of girls.

The whole new addition is conveniently arranged, and, altho it is nothing elaborate, it presents a neat appearance, and will add greatly to the efficiency of the high school.

To appreciate the building, it is necessary to make a tour thru it. With the old and new parts joined, it becomes an immense structure, difficult to properly describe.

"Coshocton is mighty lucky to have such a wonderful building," says Superintendent Clifton. "It will compare favorably with any in the state, and the cost has been small when compared to that of buildings in other cities. The en

VOCATIONAL AG. INSTRUCTOR AT COSHOCTON HIGH SHOWS ADVANTAGES TO BE DERIVED

Following the business meeting and a short literary program at the open meeting of Muskingum Valley grange Friday night C. H. Ross, vocational agriculture instructor in Coshocton high school gave an interesting stereopticon lecture on his work in the local high school before a large audience.

The purpose of Mr. Ross' talk was to bring to farm boys and their parents an appreciation of the benfits to be derived from training in vocational agriculture, and to line up, if possible, boys for the course to be given in the local high school the coming winter.

Mr. Ross called special attention to the inducement being held out to boys to take this course, by way of reduced tuition rates. With 25 teachers employed in Coshocton high school the tuition fee per year, Mr. Ross stated, is $72 whereas the actual cost per student is $83. The enrollment in the agricultural department has grown from 21 three years ago to 35 the

STUDENT PROVES POULTRY RAISING PAYS IN DOLLARS

Howard Hothem, son of Harry Hothem, Newcomerstown R. D. who is a student in West Lafayette high school, agricultural class, has just finished a project in poultry raising which is meeting with success, according to A. E. Halterman teacher, in charge.

Out of 520 white leghorn chicks obtained on the first day of May he finished with 407 twelve weeks later of which 208 were cockerels and 199 pullets. The cockerels were sold as broilers at 25 cents per pound and the pullets kept for layers this winter.

After keeping accurate record of all feed, labor, coal for brooder, interest on investment, rent, and other expenses the boy comes out with $62.83 clear profit, besides good wages for the time spent working with the chickens.

Hothem had never attempted raising chickens before and knew nothing about the use of a brooder and feeding on a large scale.

This is part of his school work and he will be given credit in high school for it. There are many boys in Coshocton county conducting like projects in all phases of agriculture in the two departments of agriculture, the other one being at Coshocton.

YOUNG MAN DIES AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS SATURDAY

After a four year fight for health in the far west, John W. Wents, 25, succumbed to pulmonary tuberculosis at his home in West Lafayette, Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock.

Wets had been in poor health for the past five years. The last four years of his life up to June 1 of this year he has spent in Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico in the vain quest of renewed health.

Less than three months ago he arrived at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wents, of West Lafayette and his health had constantly failed since.

He was born in Coshocton-co and spent his childhood in West Lafayette. For five years he served the interests of the Pennsylvania railroad in the capacity of a clerk. He was well known and well respected in West Lafayette and leaves a host of friends to mourn his death.

While in the west he became a member of the First Presbyterian church of Durango, Colorado.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wents of West Lafayette, one brother Russell Wents, of Akron and two half sisters, Mrs. Carrie Brewer, of Coshocton and Mrs. Wilbur Glaze, of Turlock, California and a half brother, Sylvester J. Wents, of Mt. Pleasant, Pennsylvania.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of the parents in West Lafayette in charge of the Rev. D. L. Curtis, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church of West Lafayette. Interment will be made in the West Lafayette cemetery.

OIL DRILLING IS RESUMED ON FARM IN MILL CREEK-TP

Oil prospecting has been resumed on the Lloyd Holderbaum farm in Mill Creek-tp, near the Rock Valley schoolhouse by the Empire Gas & Oil Co., of Wooster, after a suspension of several years.

Three or four shallow wells and one deep one are to be put down.

Several years ago a shallow well was drilled on an adjoining farm, and proved to be a producer. Plans for drilling on the Holderbaum farm were made at that time, but had to be dropped because of rising costs and the scarcity of labor.

The Empire Co. now plans to go forward with the development of their leases in that township, according to announcement made Saturday.

Frazeysburg Man Fractures Hip

Samuel Gardner, aged 63, of Frazeysburg, fractured his right hip in a fall at his home Friday. He was brot to the office of Dr. J. W. Shaw where the fracture was set. Owing to his age, it is believed the break may require many weeks to mend.

NO HOPE OF SUCCESS SEEN IN DISARMAMENT PLANS OF THE LEAGUE'S 'BEST MINDS'

Scheme Worked Out by Cecil Commission Would Bind the Small Powers to Take Part in War But Give Them No Power to Prevent Alliances Which Might Breed It—Britain Would Be Guaranteed Against Aggression and France Could Retain Present Agreements Giving Her Preponderance—If Scheme Went Thru One Man Might Be in Position to Decide the Fate of the World

(By EUGENE J. YOUNG)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—America, at the Washington Conference and on other occasions, has plainly served notice on the European nations that it will not take a hand in their affairs until they can furnish proof of their good faith in their pretended opposition to war. We have demanded that such nations shall show they are really desirous of getting together on a platform of non-aggression and general good will.

Such "proof" is to be offered to us. At the session of the League of Nations next month the Assembly is to take up the Disarmament plan recently adopted in Paris by a majority vote of the nineteen men appointed by the League Council as a Commission for Reduction of Armaments. Lord Robert Cecil, who has been the chief figure in this body, thus describes the outcome:

"With less dramatic effect and longer delayed action, the Disarmament Commission has done for the armies what the Washington Conference did for the fleets."

Pressure will be brot to bear on the delegates in the Assembly to get them to accept this scheme as the means of drawing America into the League. Unless I miss my guess, however, it will only furnish the occasion for a first-class row within that organization. The big nations have gone so far in insisting that their interests shall be safeguarded that the little powers will be bound again to raise issues of their rights. As the little pow-

BABSON DECLARES COOLIDGE FRIEND OF ALL BUSINESS

Statistician Expresses His Confidence In New President

LOVES THE FARM

Church and Home Are Above All Else In Executive's Heart

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Aug. 18. — Knowing that Mr. Babson is a neighbor of President Coolidge, he has been continually asked during the past two weeks to make a statement as to the probable attitude of the new president toward business. Mr. Babson has, however, refused to do so until today, believing that it was no time to talk business, and furthermore that President Coolidge should be permitted to make his own announcements. Now that the president has done so Mr. Babson has answered the question put to him.

"President Coolidge will be found to be a true friend to the agricultural, industrial, and commercial interests of the United States," he says. "He is the first President to ever have had a thoro economic training. While at Amherst College he majored in economics. Ever since graduation he has devoted a large part of his time to economic research. Those who have heard him speak or have read his books recognize the thoro ground work which he has along economic lines. The country is fortunate to have a president who possesses this background. Other presidents may have possessed certain qualities which President Coolidge lacks, but none have equalled him in judgment and ability to handle the great economic agricultural, industrial, and commercial problems today facing our country.

"Manufacturers may feel safe with President Coolidge, owing to his training and environment. William M. Butler, whose name has been so constantly in the papers the past two weeks, is the head of the great group of Butler Cotton

TIVERTON MAN IS NEW OWNER OF NELLIE STORE

C. E. Day, formerly of Tiverton and of Glenmont, has purchased the Moore general merchandise store of Nellie. The purchase was made several days ago.

Day formerly conducted stores at Tiverton and at Glenmont, lately operating a store at Glenmont.

Moore has operated the present store in Nellie for four years, and has been associated with the grocery business at Nellie for the past seven years.

A fire of unknown origin broke out in the store the morning of the first day Mr Day took charge. Considerable damage was done.

DOLLINGS CREDITORS TO SEIZE INTEREST IN FLORIDA LANDS

CINCINNATI, Aug. 18—Stockholders and creditors of the American Clearing Co., promoted by Raymond L. Dollings, erstwhile millionaire who admits in the United States district court for southern Ohio that he has "been broke for a year," are organizing a formative commission to protect their equity in 13,000 acres in Florida.

Dudley C. Outcalt is counsel for the members.

The land is near Green Cove Springs, Fla., and represents one of a number of share selling projects organized by the Dollings Co., part of whose subsidiary companies are involved in litigation.

A commission of experts that for several years has been working on the problem of transmitting electricity from Norway and Sweden to Denmark has reported the plan feasible but very costly.

ART HALL AT COUNTY FAIR TO HOUSE "MADE AND SOLD IN COSHOCTON PRODUCTS"

"GREAT AMERICAN NOVEL" UNLIKELY, SAVANT BELIEVES

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 18.—"America cannot be put into a book," asserts Professor Joseph Villiers Denney, head of the English department, Ohio State University, who doubts whether the "great American novel ever "will arrive."

"People who have believed in the coming of the great American novel have collectively made up a sort of recipe for it, each contributing an essential ingredient," Professor Denney declared. "It must be written by a real American. It must envisage America in theme, motifs, characters, life pulse, national aspiration and natural scenery and background. It must be, most of all, a genuine work of art, adequate in structure to the greatness of the conception embodied.

"This is a large contract," continued Professor Denney. "I am afraid that some essential will be left out when the work stands complete. America cannot be put into a book. Life is bigger than literature."

How best to co-operate with and assist the county agricultural society in making the annual county fair a bigger, better, and more interesting event has long been the problem of the local business men's association. Many features have been promoted and tried by these men year after year without accomplishing the full purpose, and the results have not been commensurate with their efforts.

This year the Coshocton Business Men's Association and the manufacturers of the county have joined forces and will present for the inspection and entertainment of the fair visitors a combined exhibit of "Made and Sold in Coshocton Products."

The committees in charge of this additional attraction have been working hard on the preliminary work the last several weeks, and at a meeting Friday night made final and definite arrangements and

WOMEN WORK TO SAVE HAY CROPS

High Wages And The Dearth Of Labor Plague New York Farmers

SYRACUSE, N. Y. Aug. 18 — With a large proportion of one of the greatest hay crops in the history of Central New York rotting in the fields, women and children are being pressed into service in a desperate effort to save the crop, Don W. Ward, manager of the Onondaga County Farm Bureau, declares.

Farm labor virtually has disappeared from the market. The few experienced hands available for employment are getting such high wages that the average farmer can better afford to let his hay field go uncut than to pay harvest help, Ward said.

A similiar situation will arise in a few days when the wheat harvest commences. The wheat crop this year also is unusually heavy, and there is no prospect of the labor situation improving.

Ward said women and children can be seen in the fields all over the countryside from early morning until dark spreading hay and loading it into wagons or packing it in the mows.

ASKS AUTHORITY TO EXAMINE ALL DOLLINGS' BOOKS

COLUMBUS, Aug. 18—A petition asking that the receivership of the R. L. Dollings Co., of Ohio, and its subsidiaries, be instructed to permit him to examine all records in their possession dealing with the various concerns was filed in common pleas court here today by Attorney John A. Bushnell, Columbus, chairman of the Dollings Stockholders Protective Committee, a state wide organization of stockholders of the Dollings Co and its subsidaries.

In his petition, Chairman Bushnell declared that his examination of the records is necessary for maintainance of the best interest of the stockholders.

"The committee believes stockholders should be warned against stock salesmen who are trying to buy Dollings securities at less than their real worth," declared Chairman Bushnell. "It is the belief of the committee that the various businesses should be continued in operation. If this is done," he said, "holders of Dollings securities will receive full payment of their holdings."

KLANSMAN, EDITOR OF FIERY CROSS DESCRIBES SITUATION DEVELOPED AT STEUBENVILLE

"The anti-Ku Klux Klan riot and shooting at Steubenville last Wednesday night was directly the result of the primary election in that city Tuesday in which four klansmen were nominated for municipal offices," declared Spencer D. Irwin, Columbus, editor of the Ohio edition of The Fiery Cross, the official publication of the Klan, who arrived in Coshocton Saturday, for a brief visit with relatives, after spending two days in the eastern Ohio city investigating the incident. "It is one of the ugliest and most deplorable situations that has come up in the state," he continued, "but bad as it was, many extreme accounts of conditions were sent out by certain news associations and correspondents.

"The most glaring of these inaccuracies was the story broadcasted that thousands of Klansmen were pouring into Steubenville to take revenge on those elements which had been most prominent in the destruction of machines and assaults upon members of the organization.

"Every member of this organization takes an oath that he will uphold the duly constituted officers of the law in the execution of their duty. He swears that under all conditions he will allow the law—and the law only—to take its course. Any act of revenge could have been committed only if Klansmen had taken the law into their own hands and that they will not do.

"Other reports had it that the city was filled with secret service investigators for the organization," the Klan spokesman continued. "I can say officially that Attorney Nathaniel P. Willis [illegible] representing the state office of the Klan and myself were the only outside Klansmen in Steubenville on official business.

"The situation is potential with trouble. Thursday night a meeting was held at Richmond, 12 miles from Steubenville. Going and returning Klansmen went under armed guard, state prohibition officers leading the line of machines and other [illegible] up the rear. An effort was made by the riotous crowd to [illegible] the Klansmen after the meeting. Word of this was spread [illegible] city before the meeting broke up, and Sheriff Lucas and his deputies in several machines were on the highway to protect the Klansmen.

"Affidavits proving that the mob was organized a day of time and had plans carefully laid to assault the Klansmen, are in possession of the organization already. Contrary to some reports that 2000 men beat 100 Klansmen, the fact is that between 400 and 500 rowdies overtarn-

COOLIDGE HAS POLE IN RACE FOR 2ND TERM

His Endorsement Marks Opening of Scramble By Many Hopefuls

GAINS SUPPORT

Booms Developing For Johnson, Watson and Hoover

BY W. K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—Rumbling of an early outbreak of hostilities in the race for the 1924 Republican nomination were heard thruout the city today while friends of potential candidates prepared to launch early campaigns for electoral votes. Supporters of President Coolidge by publicly endorsing him for a second term, have given their favorite a running start and other campaign managers are expected to announce their caniddates shortly.

While Coolidge stands alone in the field for the present, the names of a dozen potential candidates are mentioned by Republican leaders. These include Senator Hiram Johnson, of Calif.; James E. Watson, of Indiana; James W. Wadsworth, of New York; and Arthur Capper, of Kansas, former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois; Gen. Leonard Wood; Gov. Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania; and Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover.

Political forecasts here predict booms will be launched for Johnson, Watson and Hoover within a few weeks.

While potential candidates are subject to many rumors, the capital generally is discussing the recent unexpected "break" between Johnson and Senator Moses, of New Hampshire. With Republican leaders expecting Moses to be campaign manager for Johnson, the New Hampshire senator suddenly threw his support to President Coolidge in a public declaration urging a second term for the incumbent executive.

The New Hampshire senator's action was a bombshell to friends of Johnson. It was learned today that on the very afternoon Moses announced himself for Coolidge, he had previously told newspaper men he would give out a statement endorsing Johnson for president. While newspaper men were waiting for the statement Moses conferred with the president and followed the visit with a declaration favoring Coolidge for a second term. Previously he was Johnson's chief supporter.

The entire New England delegation in the senate stands pledged to the president for a second term. Even Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, frequently reported to be on the "political outs" with Coolidge has joined the Coolidge ranks. It is reported here Moses or Hale, of Maine, will lead the Coolidge pre-convention fight with assistance from Secretary of War Weeks. The Coolidge boom has also gained headway in the south since the appointment of C. Bascom Slemp, as secretary to the president.

The 1924 campaign will be in full swing before congress meets in December, it is expected.

YOUNG BLOOD TO BE INFUSED IN REP. LEADERSHIP

WASHINGTON, Aug 18. — Reorganization of the Republican leadership in the next congress will lead to a determined fight to place "young blood" in control, even at the cost of an intra-party battle, according to reports at the capitol. If insurgent movements are successful, there will be a complete shakeup of Republican leadership in the senate with younger men placed in charge of the party's legislative program.

In the house, thru the defeat of former Republican leader Mondell, of Wyoming, similar changes are expected.

The senate fight will revolve around the election of a president to succeed Calvin Coolidge as permanent presiding officer. With the post paying $12,500 a year, $5,000 more than a senator's salary, it is a widely sought political plum. In addition it gives its occupant the distinction of outranking the cabinet at all social and diplomatic affairs.

COOLIDGE REFERS OHIO GAS PROBE TO ATT'Y GENERAL

COLUMBUS, Aug. 18. — Gov. Donahey has received a letter from George B. Christian, Washington, D. C., secretary to the late President Harding advising that President Coolidge has received the governor's telegram asking for a federal investigation of the gasoline price situation in Ohio.

"The president is at once bringing this matter to the attention of the attorney general," Christian stated.

BANK WILL CLOSE; DEPOSITORS ARE PROMISED MONEY

DAYTON, Aug. 18. — The American National Bank, wrecked by its second vice president and cashier, Fred W. Hecht, will pass out of existence.

Its business affairs have been taken over by the Merchants' National Bank. All that remains to be done to complete the deal is the the formality of [illegible] agreements.

The Merchants National announced [illegible] this afternoon that depositors of the wrecked bank may get their money Saturday.

Hecht's total defalcation today was officially announced as being $315,000. Of this amount 24 forged notes were for $242,350. There is one forged check for $525 and missing notes call for $3[illegible],000. In addition there is the amount of $32,125 to be accounted for.

Hecht denied all complicity or knowledge of any [illegible] connection with Alex Skilsen in a statement to federal authorities.

Man 74 Years Old Is "Rejuvenated" In 3 Weeks Without Gland Operation

Kansas Contracter Tells of Wonderful Results Obtained In Test of New Scientific Discovery.

Thomas J. Glascock, 74, well-known Kansas contractor, declares he has virtually been made young again by the recently discovered korex compound, which is pronounced superior to "gland treatments" as an invigorator and revitalizer.

"I feel like I did at 35," says Mr. Glascock, "and seem to be getting stronger every day. During my three weeks' use of the new discovery, pains and weaknesses of many years' standing disappeared almost magically. Today I am as vigorous and supple as I was in the prime of life. Furthermore, when I began using the compound, my memory was virtually gone and I was almost blind. Now my mind is clear and active and I can read the finest print without difficulty."

THOMAS J. GLASCOCK.

In order to find out whether the results were lasting, Mr. Glascock waited six months before reporting on his test of the discovery. On this point he says:

"Every passing day strengthens my conviction that my restoration is not only complete but permanent. I can't express the happiness this great discovery has brought to me. It has made me 'young' again."

Similar reports are being made almost daily. For instance, D. W. Wood of New Orleans, past 60 years of age, says: "The compound has brought me back to as good, healthy physical condition as I enjoyed at 35. I am apparently as supple as at 25 and my eyesight is better than for years. I would not take $5,000 for what the discovery has done for me."

The compound is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless, yet rated as the quickest and most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on lower spinal nerve centers and certain glands and blood vessels, it often brings amazing benefits in 24 to 36 hours, according to thousands who have tested it.

"It is wonderful," writes a resident of Hollister, Cal. "In less than 24 hours you can feel it does the work. It makes one feel young as a young man. I am more than happy and glad I tried it." Another Californian says: "The compound is a world's wonder. I feel like I was about 25 and here I am nearly fifty!"

The compound has been tested in all parts of the country and has won the praises of thousands who suffered from nerve weakness, lost or depleted vigor, neurasthenia, premature age, impaired glandular activity and lack of animation and vital force. Its effects seem to be virtually the same on both young and old. Physicians say the principal active ingredient of the compound gives speedy satisfaction in obstinate cases that defy all other treatments. Elderly people pronounce the discovery a real "fountain of youth."

Realizing that thousands of enfeebled, half-alive folk may consider such news "too good to be true," the American distributors have agreed to supply a double-strength treatment of the discovery on a guaranteed trial basis to everyone in need of such a preparation. If you wish to test the compound under a money-back guarantee, write in strict confidence, to the Melton Laboratories, 2853 Melton Building, Kansas City, Mo., for a two-dollar treatment of korex compound, mailed in a plain, sealed wrapper. You may enclose two dollars, or simply send your name, without money, and pay two dollars and postage on delivery, as you prefer. In either case, however, if you report within ten days that you are not satisfied, the laboratories will refund the purchase price upon request. Those laboratories are nationally known and thoroughly reliable, so nobody need hesitate about accepting their guaranteed offer.

STEUBENVILLE IS QUIET FOLLOWING KLAN DISORDERS

BY W. R. UPDEGRAFF

STEUBENVILLE, Aug. 18 — State, county and city officials joined today, after a second peaceful night in Steubenville following outbreaks of violence and riot between members of the Ku Klux Klan and irate townspeople, in the belief that the present phase of the trouble was over and the situation well under control.

Klansmen last night held an "invitation konklave" at Knoxville, a little town 11 miles back in the country, that passed off quietly and without disorder. The Klansmen had asked protection, but were assured by the Sheriff that no trouble was likely. They held their meeting unmolested and returned to Steubenville early this morning.

Gov. Donahey told the International News Service that he believed the situation was well in hand, that he anticipated no more trouble and only as an "uttermost last resort would martial law be declared in Steubenville.

"It's preposterous to think of it," the governor declared. "I believe the local officials are entirely capable of handling the situation. They have not communicated with me asking for any assistance and until they do so, the state will take no action in the Steubenville outbreak."

Sheriff Edward Lucas declared today that while Steubenville never was "a Sunday school town this so-called riot was not near as bad as it had been painted. We have the situation well in hand and anticipate no further trouble," the sheriff said.

Mayor Frank Hawkins and Chief of Police Blaine Carter were defiant of threats of the Klan to remove them from office and joined with the other authorities in deprecating the seriousness of the situation.

Finding of a quantity of dynamite in a garage owned by John Anderson, negro, of East Steubenville, directly across the river in West Virginia is believed by Steubenville police to be a personal grudge rather than a continuation of the Klan disorders. It is being investigated by Brooke co., W. Va., authorities.

D. L. Gibson, 35, alleged Klan leader and local prohibition officer, John Di Santis, 26, and Dominic Spinett, 27, shot Wednesday night, were all reported well on the road to recovery by hospital officials today. Di Santis will probably lose an eye, however.

John Marvin, miner, 42, shot early yesterday told Sheriff Lucas today that "The Klan didn't have anything to do with me getting shot." He claimed to know who fired the bullet which inflicted a slight flesh wound, but refused to reveal the identity of his allailant.

OPERATORS HAVE ARGUMENT READY FOR CONFERENCE

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18—Mine operators of the anthracite field today formulated the program they will advance at the re-opened joint conference of owners and miners at Atlantic City, Monday at a brief, informal conference here.

The operators, it was stated at their offices, had not receded from their position as announced July 27, when the original conference broke up in a deadlock over the checkoff system.

BABSON DECLARES

Mills in New England. These mills are located in New Bedford, North Adams and elsewhere and employ about 5000 operatives. Mr. Butler is also president of the Boston & Worcester Street Railway, a high-speed, double track, electric line operating between Boston and Worcester, which is the most successful interurban line in New England. Mr. Butler combines a legal training with a practical business experience, and from him President Coolidge has absorbed a tremendous amount of industrial experience. President Coolidge's closest personal friend is Mr. Frank Stearns, the head of R. H. Stearns & Company, one of the largest department stores of New England. Mr. Stearns is a merchant who not only thoroly understands the commercial world, but purchases a good deal from Europe. Most of our presidents have been trained in legal or political life without being thrown into contact much with practical business men. President Coolidge has continually been in an industrial, commercial and agricultural environment.

"On the other hand," continued Mr. Babson, "President Coolidge also understands the problems of the masses. He himself was born poor, has always been poor and is poor. His father was born a Vermont farmer and is one yet. President Coolidge was working in the hay field the day before he became President of the United States. The last time I talked with him he was especially troubled with the condition of the Western farmer. Our conversation covered a broad field but he continually came back to the problem of the farmer and said. 'We must do something for the Western farmer. What is the sanest and best thing we can do?'

No one better realizes than he that agriculture is the basis of American prosperity and that with thirty-three million people dependent upon agriculture for their income we must have prosperity in the west before we can have it in the east.

"The home life of the new president was illustrated by the news item which appeared in the papers on the eventful morning of Friday, August 3. The Associated Press Dispatch read: 'Mr. Coolidge came down stairs in his slippers, entered his father's sitting room, lit the lamp, and read the telegram telling him that he was president of the United States.' Those simple words, 'slippers,' 'sitting room,' 'lit the lamp,' tell the whole story. Business has nothing to fear from a man with that environment and with such friends. Moreover, best of all, he is grounded on those fundamentals of religion which put the church and the home before even agriculture, labor, commerce, or anything else.

"This means that the agricultural and business interests may feel safe regarding the white house. Regardless of what selfish politicians may attempt to do in congress, there will be a sane man at the wheel. Uneconomic or unjust legislation will only be passed by riding over President Coolidge's veto. He plans to help the farmer; but will not permit the Esch-Cummings Transportation Act to be repealed or crippled. He will do something for the veterans, but will not permit the passage of a bonus bill which will be harmful to the nation as a whole. He will stand for strengthening the Federal Reserve Board, the Railroad Labor Board, the Federal Tariff Commission, and other bodies working along sound economic lines, but may be expected to frown upon an unnecessary coal shortage or an attempt by organized labor to hold up the country or upon any legislation which endeavors to make water run up hill.

"For these reasons there has been a greater confidence among American business man the past week than current figures indicate. Altho the Babsonchart is 9% below normal, this decline is largely due to conditions in Europe and to fears of foreign bankers and foreign business men, who do not know President Coolidge. Furthermore, while we have been busy thinking during the past three weeks only of our presidents, great events have been taking place in Europe. The newspapers have been unable to give this European news much space. I refer to the increase in the German bank rate to 80% and certain other radical changes. These changes have caused the Babsonchart to decline and have influenced our domestic stock and commodity markets. When, however, these Europeans understand President Coolidge, they should resume the buying of commodities and securities with a faith equal to that being shown by the financial and business interests of our own country."

PASTOR DEFENDS SUNDAY MOVIES

Rebels Against Sanctioning Golf and Putting Ban On Picture Shows

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 18—"I rebel at the tacit approval of Sunday golf, which is played Sunday morning and takes boys from Sunday school, while the churches object to Sunday afternoon movies," said Rev. Sidney E. Sweet, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church here, sermonizing on "What a Christian Thinks."

"Perhaps the golf players are more numerous in the churches," he continued.

"Why should not people who haven't money enough to join exclusive golf clubs, or to own automobiles, watch moving pictures Sunday afternoons? My conception of Sunday is that all should worship God. Make the movies good for every day and no man can reasonably object to them on Sunday," said Rev. Dr. Sweet.

NO HOPE OF SUCCESS

ers have the votes in the Assembly they will undoubtedly force sweeping odifications or defeat the proposal altogether by tabling it.

BUTS IN THE DOCUMENT

If this plan had not been worked out by nineteen able statesmen in fifteen months of labor one would have to smile as he analysed it. It starts out with the solemn declaration that "aggressive warfare is an international crime" and pledges all "not be guilty of its commission" and then it goes on to state an elaborate series of contradictions.

All nations are bound to act against aggressive war BUT no nation on one continent shall be obligated to act in case of trouble on another.

Aggression is frowned on BUT powers may make alliances "exclusively for mutual defense" which can control their continents.

It is designed to make a new deal in world affairs BUT present alliances are not to be abrogated.

It is to be adopted by the League BUT Germany or Russia must subscribe to it or it will not become effective in Europe.

Treaties are to be put on the files of the League BUT military agreements between allies are to be kept secret.

In face of such things one wonders whether the able men who drew the plan had their tongues in their cheeks; or, after their sad experience with American analytical power, they still think they can bluff us with four-flushes.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE GAINERS

What has already struck delegates of the smaller nations and what will lead to a strong fight by them in the Assembly—under the leadership of Italy—is this state of facts:

(1). By the provision pledging assistance of other nations to one attacked Great Britain will gain her great object—insurance of her Empire. She now possesses almost a fourth of the earth's surface and a third of its population. She has gained all she will be able to absorb within the next three or four generations and it is a question whether she can absorb what she has. Therefore she will not be an aggressor and need not fear the League will act against her. If attacked she will have the League nations on her side, making her Empire safe.

(2). France dominates the Continent of Europe at present thru her own military strength and the alliances with Poland and the Little Entente. These are to be sanctioned by the League. So long as they exist France will continue to dominate.

(3). Britain and France, thus secured, could renew their Entente and practically divide the world—except that part protected by the United States. All the smaller states in the League would be subservient to them and be compelled to maintain their ascendancy.

The original provisions of the League Covenant were designed to put its power into the hands of a Council which should be dominated by its five permanent representatives of big powers. Against this dominance the small powers have fought with success, last year increasing the number of smaller powers on that body to six, against which there are votes of only four large powers (the United States not having taken its permanent membership). The same forces may be depended on to array themselves against a treaty which would bind them to assure the continental and world dominance of Britain and France.

FOUR DAYS FOR DECISION

Aside from these phases, which are almost certain to wreck the proposal in the Assembly, the scheme for bringing to bear the united power of the nations against a war maker is probably the most extraordinary idea that ever emanated from the minds of statesmen. If peoples go to war the League council within four days is to decide which was the aggressor; and if that aggressor does not accept the decision and cease fighting then the nations of the League must combine to defeat it by economic blockades and even armed force.

Think back. In the early days of the World War Germany flooded the earth with the charge that she had been attacked by both France and Russia and offered evidence which years afterwards was shown to be false. But how could anyone prove it false in four days? A large proportion of the people of the world and of this country believed the German charge.

America went to war with Spain because of the destruction of the Maine in Havana harbor. We charged our battleship was blown up by a Spanish mine. The Spaniards have always insisted she was blown up by her own magazines. It took weeks for American investigators to make up their own minds and the decision had to be made on the testimony of divers which was disputed by the other side.

Probably there never was a war in which the statesmen did not blame aggression on the other side and back it up with plausible arguments or "proofs."

VAST POWER FOR ONE MAN

It is absolutely certain that when nations do go to war four days will not suffice to decide which was the aggressor. Each will make its own unassailable record and charge the other with having fired the first shots. Witnesses will be in the thick of battle; or, if produced, might well be actuated by patriotic motives to back the version of their government. It will thus be impossible to weigh the evidence and hand down a considered verdict within the time limit. It is likely that the Council will divide sharply. One delegate might be put in position to decide which way the majority should lie. Such a man would have the fate of the world in his hands.

And the men called on to make this decision would not be judges picked for their ability to weigh evidence and to give fair judgments. They would be diplomats representing their governments on the Council. They would be men chosen for their ability and willingness to serve the interests of their states. They would be bound to take instructions from their own capitals.

Here, then, is what would happen: Before and following the opening of a war, the belligerent nations would be bidding for support in the Council. They would offer the nations having members any consideration possible to take their side. A share of the spoils of victory, support for some design of a people against another, bribes to the interested officials, would all figure in the intrigue to line up the League support.

Imagine the influence Germany would have exerted at the beginning of the World War to gain such aid. And she might have gained it, because she would not have scrupled about her methods.

NO RELIEF FOR YEARS

But even these features do not spell out all the futility of this peculiar plan which has emanated from fifteen months study of "best minds." Giving it the benefit of any doubt there may be and supposing it should get the support of the League Assembly, what then?

The scheme must go to the various nations for ratification. It would undoubtedly meet with strong opposition in many parliaments. There would be insistence on reservations. Italy has already made her reservation against "defensive alliances" on the ground that they would restore the old idea of the balance of power. There would be insistence on clear provisions which would guard against secret armies and compel supervision of munitions makers.

If sufficient nations should ratify the plan to insure its success then would come the problem of assessing the strength each power should have for "defense." Under the proposal every one of them could put forward its own idea and the Council must then take up the problem and decide what the quota of armed forces should be. Here would be a fine opportunity for quarreling and trading for support. If it took fifteen months for the Commission to draft the plan how long would it take the Council to decide such a vast question?

Suppose the Council did reach an agreement and the nations should accept it? Then there would be a period of grace of two years before any power must reduce its forces to the quota set by the Council.

Three years is the least time in which relief could come under this scheme. In three years Germany will probably be broken up. Who can tell what will be the composition of the British Empire, with its critical problems in Canada, South Africa and India? Russia may have a new deal. Many maps may be redrawn.

Europe may be making progress towards disarmament but there is little in this plan to give hope.

"From Coast to Coast"

475 DEPARTMENT STORES OPERATED IN 33 STATES

THIS popular service-and-value-giving system of stores, conceded to be the "World's largest chain department store organization" and an institution of National import, serving more than a million homes from its 475 economy units, is soon to inaugurate an epoch of mercantile achievements in which every man, woman and child in this great community will find much to interest them.

Announcement of the opening date of the new local J. C. Penney Company Store will be made in a few days. Then the enjoyment, the benefits, the savings, the lasting satisfaction others have been experiencing in their daily lives will also be yours to experience. Watch for further announcements!

Time—the Great Maturist

An acorn does not grow into a great, strong, healthy oak tree in a day. The J. C. Penney Company did not become an institution of National importance over night. Like the growth of the tree, it developed by the process of time, each year becoming stronger with new branches reaching out in every direction. Starting with one small store in Wyoming in 1902, branch Stores continued to appear year after year until today—twenty-one years later—there are 475 branches extending their influence and serving the people of 33 States. Of this number, 104 Department Stores are to be the product of this year, many of which have already matured. Mr. J. C. Penney, still active in the affairs of the Company, builded better than he knew when in 1902 he laid the foundation on which eventually was to rest this Nation-wide institution.

It's Not What You Pay That Counts

Human nature is pretty much the same wherever you meet it. It is natural that in buying your personal and home needs you should seek the highest possible value for the price you pay. This applies, no doubt, whether your expenditures are limited or unlimited. After all, it is not what you pay that counts—even though the price be small—but what you get for what you pay! This Company does not ask for the whole trade of this or any other community—it wants only that trade to which it can promise and give the largest value for the dollar. It is not large profits that concern us, but the establishing of a safe and sound foundation for a business here that will be lasting. The enormous purchasing power created by our merchandising requirements for 475 Department Stores makes possible the giving of the unmatchable values we do throughout the year.

33 STATES STORES—475

Imagine if You Can—

Our buyers in New York, St. Paul and St. Louis have been busy purchasing dependable Fall and holiday merchandise for the 475 Department Stores comprising this Nation-wide institution. Imagine the purchasing power of these Buyers! Imagine the enormous quantities of merchandise they require! Imagine the eagerness of manufacturers everywhere to secure such immense orders as our Buyers have to give! Imagine, too, with what readiness manufacturers offer the creare of their goods and the price-concessions they willingly give! Imagine the economy derived by each of our Stores from the operation of so many Stores—475 Stores operated practically as one! All these savings revert to our customers. They get more in quality and service, and pay less for it.

"Tigers and Deer Do Not Stroll Together"

The above caption is a famous old Chinese proverb, the net good it suggests being that a business policy of ever-changing procedure does not wear well with the public which has a right to expect the same square treatment today, tomorrow and every day. The J. C. Penney Company Stores never hold so-called "sales." They prefer to give their patrons the same square deal the year 'round. Furthermore, we do not give orders to take quality out of our goods in order to reduce our prices. New, fresh, reliable merchandise is arriving daily and it never remains in our Stores long enough to grow old, shopworn or otherwise undersirable, again eliminating the need of sales. We sell for cash only. No charge accounts. By carrying your purchases home you save expensive delivery charges. These are some of the factors that have made possible the growth of this Company and given to it a Nation-wide popularity.

The slides used in Mr. Ross' lecture were made from photographs of the boys in their various project activities. In this work five projects were carried out, namely, poultry husbandry, dairying, lamb-feeding, corn-growing, pruning and spraying, and stock-judging.

In the poultry project 1700 day-old chicks were purchased and 1500 eggs set. Six brooders were bot and one made. The boys were responsible for the construction of 4 new poultry houses and 5 new brooder houses and for the remodeling of 2 poultry houses and 2 brooder houses With regard to the personal work of the boys Mr. Ross stated that Edward Stewart raised 221 chicks from 250, Dinsmore Finlay 272 from 300, Harold Neldon 250 and Russell Fett 265 The latter also sold $68 00 worth of broilers.

In the dairy project two boys, John Lyons and Everett Kreider, cared for 10 cows each for the year, with a total income from the 20 cows of $3,888 12 The total expense, including feed, labor at 25c per hour and rent on buildings, was $2,334 49, leaving a net income of $1,553 63, or $77 68 per cow. The income from the poorest cow was $26 70 and fro mthe best cow, $245.68.

Six boys put out 25 acres of corn, in the corn project, raising a total of 1413 bushels, with an average yield of 56½ bushels and a top yield of 72½ bushels on 5 acres. The total expense on the 25 acres was $604 46 and the total income $1,126 23 The average production cost was 42 3-4 per bushel and the boy who produced 72½ bushels per acre did it at a cost of 37c per bushel.

Leonard Cullison fed 16 lambs a balanced ration of corn, oats, oil meal and hay. The lambs were culls, at a cost of $4 00 each Feed and supplies cost $25 44 and labor $7 73, making a total cost of $71.17. The total income was $138 24, or a profit of $67 07

Mr Ross took a judging team to the 1922 county fair, Dinsmore Finlay winning first prize, a Duroc-Jersey gilt. Eight boys will be taken to the coming Ohio State Fair and a team will judge at the local county fair.

In the pruning and spraying projects two boys made $25 00 in 1922 and $20 00 in 1923.

In outlining his work for the coming school year Mr Ross stated that courses in farm crops and horticulture, farm engineering and dairying and farm shop work will be given The farm crops course will embrace selection and storage of seed corn and seed potatoes, silo filling, wheat seeding and fertilizing, harvesting potatoes, fruits and vegetables, corn and wheat harvesting, corn grading, improvement and marketing, legumes, meadows and pastures, corn germination, oats and rye, orchard fruits, hot beds and cold frames, home gardening and small fruits and sprays The farm engineering and dairying course will include the study of farm machinery, concrete construction, farm buildings, farm power, home conveniences, spray machinery, fencing, the dairy breeds, feeding care and management, clean milk and cream production, and the farm dairy In the farm shop-work course will be taught wood construction, tool-sharpening and saw-filing, harness-repairing, knot-tying, rope-making and splicing and soldering

Mr. Ross will give his lecture at a number of grange meetings to be held in the various parts of the county between now and the opening of the school year Boys of high school age and their parents will do well to hear him.

OPENING DATE OF PENNY STORE NOT YET DECIDED UPON

The interior of the new J C Penney Store, which will occupy the east half of the building which formerly housed the Fountain Dry Goods store, was nearing completion Saturday.

Shipments of stock have already been received, and were being arranged on the shelves Saturday

H L Bondurant, formerly of White Fish, Montana, is directing the work at the store. He will have full charge of the new store, when it opens. He has been with the Penny company for eight years, and has been trusted with the responsibility of opening the new store because of his previous success.

The new store, according to Mr Bondurant, wil lhandle a complete line of dry goods, men and women's ready-to-wear garments and shoes The opening date has not been decided upon, but it will be in the near future, he declared Saturday adopted a program which when carried out will be a revelation to those who visit the exhibit, they believe.

The store is backed by the largest chain store company in the country. The J C. Penney company is now operating a chain of 475 stores in the United States, scattered from coast to coast.

"Probably the majority of the residents of this section believe that they have at least a general idea of the nature of the products manufactured in our little industrial center but when our many and varied manufactured products are placed on exhibition it will prove that there is, indeed, a very poor conception of what they mean and do for the outside world," one of the promotors of the project remarked Saturday

The diversity of manufacturers' exhibits is calculated to further confidence in the county's fundamental soundness. A city or county of one industry is liable to feel the effect of panics and changes in the temperature of business far more than a community like our own, full of "such a number of things," it is pointed out.

The retail and wholesale concerns of the county will make every effort to bring before the visitors a combined exhibit of their merchandise which will stamp this community as a buying center to be reckoned with, for, in addition to their individual display booths, they will offer as an added feature a combined, non-competitive style review upon an elevated stage and runway, upon which will be exhibited a home conceived, home managed, and home modeled review. The local models will display only wearing apparel that has been selected from the large and varied stocks carried by our own progressive merchants. This feature of the exhibit is to be practically continuous thruout the three days and two evenings of the fair.

In addition to all of this there will be special music and other paid attractions for the entertainment of the visitors As an added attraction to the annual fair, this exhibit should be an outstanding feature, and if the event is the success that is anticipated, it is planned to make it an annual affair increasing in size and importance yearly, until it has attained such proportions that it will be as indispensable to the fair as the races and stock exhibits are today.

The Holiness Association of Perryton will hold its annual tent meeting, beginning August 23rd, continuing 10 days, on the Walter Ashcraft Farm, six miles north of Perryton. The workers are Rev J H Proper, Davidson Bros and others. Everyone invited.

REVOLT IN DOMINICAN REPUBLIC REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—The navy department today ordered an investigation of unconfirmed reports of an uprising in the Dominican Republic in connection with the departure of the Rochester from Panama to Santo Domingo

The Rochester is the flagship of the special service squadron in West Indian waters and is commanded by Admiral John H. Dayton. The movement of this vessel from Colon to the island of Haiti was not occasioned, according to navy department officials by any disturbance in the Dominican Republic, and no official advices have been received here of any trouble involving members of the marine corps who are stationed there

Letting Railroads Unite

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has just made his first weighty decision. He has agreed with Attorney-General Daugherty to drop the Government's effort to separate the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific railroads. This action reverses the Administration policies of the last ten years in regard to this particular railroad combination. It sets the Esch-Cummins transportation act above the Sherman act on a point where they have seemed to clash. It gives tremendous encouragement to the idea that separate railroads must unite so far as economy demands.

The suit to dissociate the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific was filed on February 11, 1914. It was taken under advisement by the Supreme Court on April 19, 1921, some six weeks after the inauguration, that is, of President Harding. The suit to that point was the work of the Wilson Administration. The court assigned the case for reargument early in 1922 and the Attorney-General, following up the action of his predecessor, argued the case. The court, in May, 1922, decreed dissolution thru the breaking of the old Central Pacific lease. The Southern Pacific has still one recourse left it. It asked the Federal Court at St. Paul to sanction a new lease to be made under the auspices of the Interstate Commerce Commission as outlined in the Esch-Cummins act. This the court finally agreed to do. The Administration had thereupon to decide whether to appeal this second lease or to let the matter go thru. It has decided to let the decision stand.

The Government has fought against the previous lease and won. That fact gave it strong hope of winning against the proposed second lease, if it chose to fight. But the law covered only a part of the question. The Government while it continued to sue in 1919 had framed a law to permit and even to encourage railroad grouping. Government and people had reached the belief that competition in the railroad business quite commonly cost the public more than would well regulated consolidation. The state of the railroads plainly indicated, moreover, that the Sherman act was far from the last word as a promoter of general welfare.

It takes some courage and energy to discontinue the tradition of railroad trust busting; that being what the present discontinuance amounts to. The farmers no doubt still look on the railroads in some sections as enveloping serpents, and want the supposed throttling coils severed in as many places as possible. But the general welfare must count. The cost of railroad operation stands too high for general welfare. The consolidation of railroads, the cancellation of duplicate expenses, offers the one obvious way of reducing their cost. The Esch-Cummins act endeavored to promote consolidation. The way to carry out its policy is to push it along. The Administration has wisely and courageously refused to give the policy a backward push.

Many believe that what we need next is a policy of positive encouragement to railroads to unite; a plan to aid their earlier and more systematic union. Then perhaps the Esch-Cummins consolidation clause will bear fruit.

Gasoline And A Governor

A SHORT time ago our oil refiners closed down their plants, entirely or in part. This curtailment, they vaguely explained, was inspired by a desire to conserve the country's oil supply. The real explanation probably was that the production of gasoline was running ahead of consumption. But the price of gasoline practically remained as high as ever, tho the price of crude oil had slumped.

This phenomenon aroused the curiosity of Gov. McMaster of South Dakota, who was unable to understand why a condition that should have caused a decline in price had had no such effect in the gasoline market. He decided to investigate. He learned that the wholesale price of gasoline in South Dakota was 14 cents a gallon and the retail price 26 cents. Concluding that was too big a margin, he ordered the State oil station to sell gasoline for 16 cents.

Gov. McMaster's order has demolished the amicable understanding by which gasoline dealers—Standard Oil and independent alike—were confessedly overcharging the public. Gasoline prices are tumbling now by the imperial ukase of the oil kings. Speaking for the independent companies, a cut of 5 cents a gallon has been ordered by L. V. Nicholas, head of the Petroleum Markets Association, in an area embracing 17 states. But the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana has outdone the independents by cutting the price 6.6 cents thruout the same area.

The statements accompanying these reductions in price are interesting. Mr. Nicholas of the independents says "a cut of more than 5 cents is unfair and ruinous." The Standard's cut of 6.6 cents, he says, "is as much out of line one way as the present price is the other."

The Standard Oil Co.'s announcement admits that its cut of 6.6 cents brings the price "far below the cost of production and distribution." It disavows any intention, however, of injuring competitors. It defends its reduction to meet the South Dakota price fixed by Gov. McMaster by citing its "established policy that the customers who purchase its goods should never be compelled to pay a higher price than that maintained and fixed by any competitor." * * *

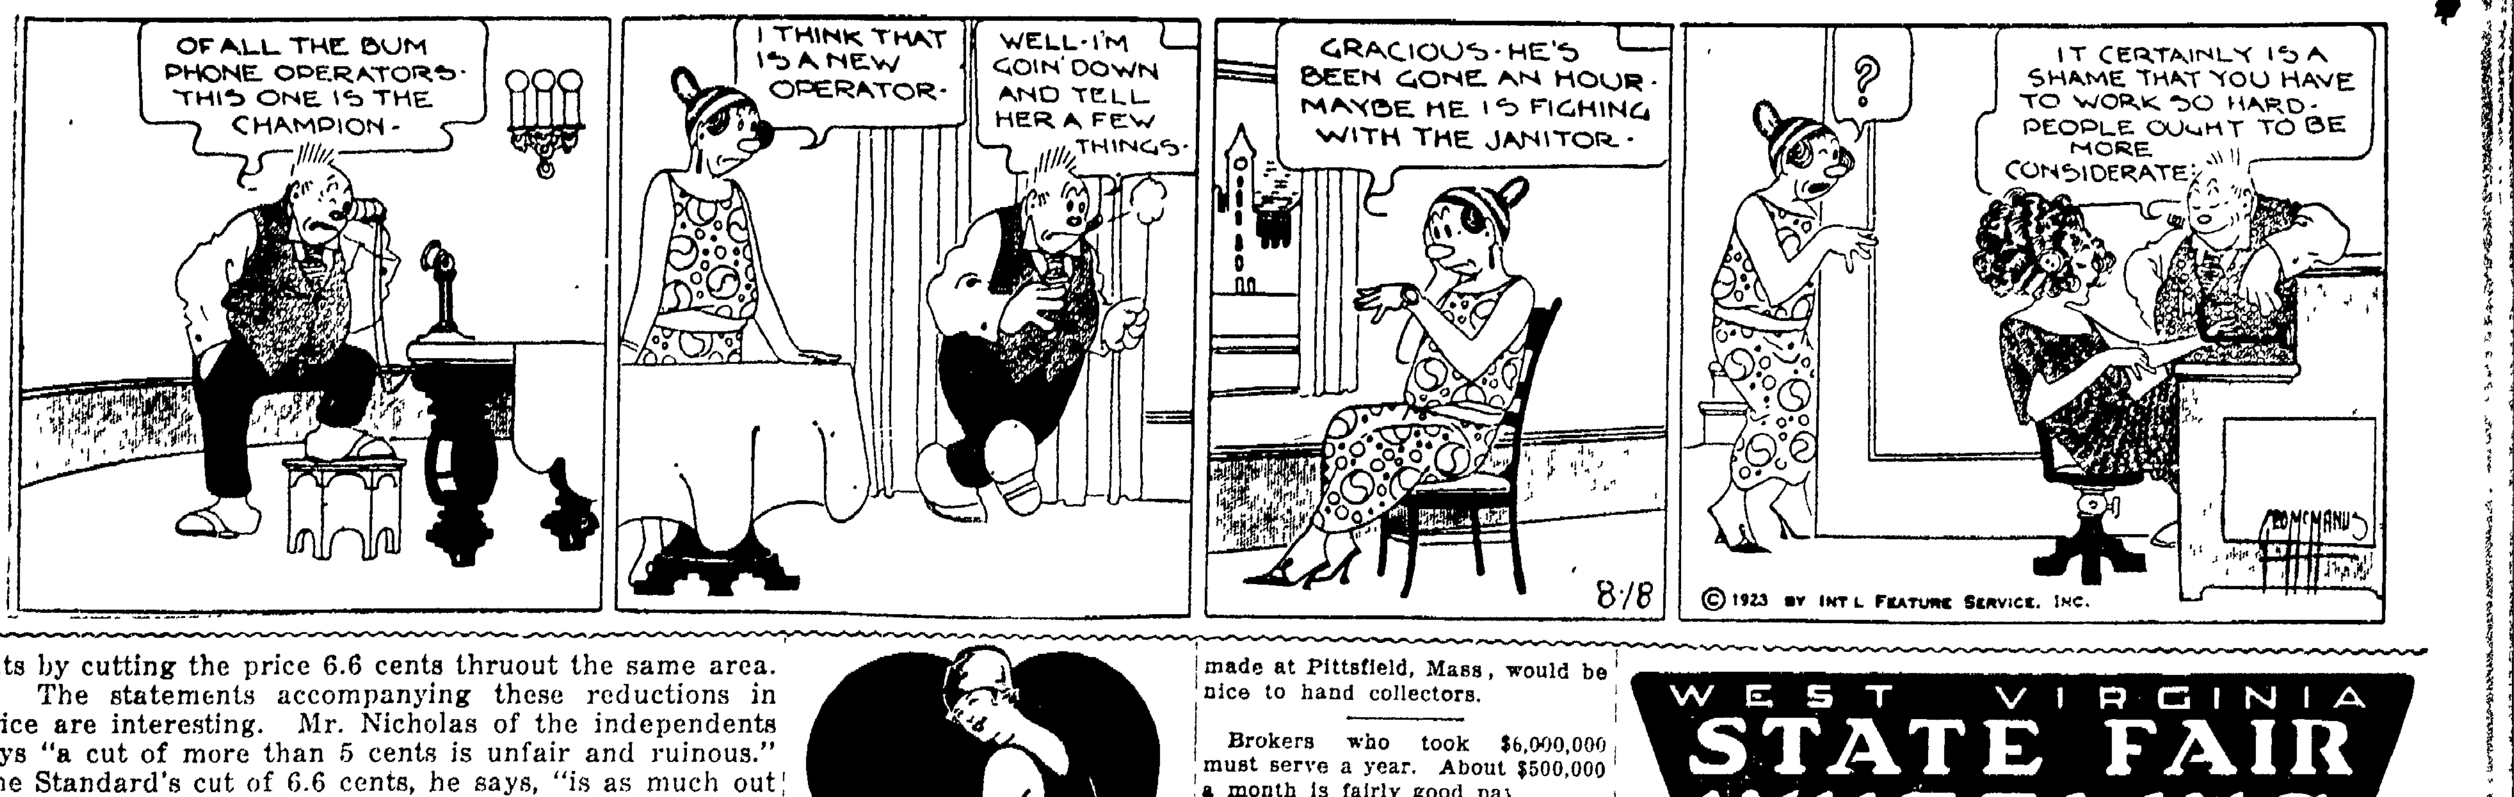

Whether the South Dakota price, as fixed by Gov. McMaster, is too low, is to be determined. Attorney-General Barrett asserts that gasoline can be bought at wholesale in Tulsa, Okla., for 10 cents a gallon. That claim however, does not absolve the independents and the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, who, in their own statements, plead guilty to profiteering, and who would still be profiteering except for the action of a curious and nervy Governor.

Buyers of gasoline everywhere in the United States are substantially indebted to Gov. McMaster of South Dakota. He has put the law of supply and demand back in the gasoline market. temporarily at least.

But what will be the ultimate result? The alacrity with which Standard Oil has met the South Dakota price is disturbing. Certainly the independents view the situation with alarm. Are they to be put out of business? Will the war started by Gov. McMaster end in Standard Oil's monopolistic control of the gasoline market?

New York Day-by-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug 18. — The lantern trimmed sightseeing buses that park along Times Square curbs waiting to carry passengers off to the thrills of Chinatown, Coney and the Bowery offer a rare study in crowd psychology.

It is the ballyhoos job to fill the lumbering vehicles. Each has its quota of "decoys"—prim looking women who are paid 50 cents an hour to sit knitting or reading in the seats. No one will enter an empty bus.

You hear the ballyhoo cry "Just starting See the Chinese opium dens! The Bowery slums Coney ablaze with light! Last trip of the day One dollah the round trip!" The lusty ballyhoos are paid $50 a week and a percentage of the fares. Many make $100 a week.

It is a nerve racking task for the few who are lured by the promise of "just starting" become irritated by the long wait and ask return of their fare They must be pacified Now and then the chauffeur will crank the car to give an impression of startnig.

The "decoys" aid in the pacification To each other they remark for the newscomers "I took this trip last summer It was just lovely I was never so thrilled in my life" There are times when they keep passengers waiting two hours.

A ballyhoo, will, at such times, call out to the megaphoned guide "We gotta get away soon. Jake Don't want these folks to miss the Chinese wedding" And Jake will reply with an exaggeration of some other wonder to be seen on this trip

From morning until night the ballyhoo sings his song luring the yokel from the rushing crowds His style is intimate and confidential He appears somewhat of a mystic Above the thunderous roar he pleads to doubting Thomases "Goin' right out! Fast car to Coney and Chinatown!" And his lippy persistence always wins

DODGE ADDS TO PLANT CAPACITY

Expansion Program Will Cost $5,000,000

An immense new assembly pal unit of the 1923 expansion building, duplicating the present structure in size, is announced by Dodge Brothers as the princh program.

The building is six stories high, 1,000 feet long and 75 feet wide, with more than one-half million square feet of floor space. Construction work which started some months ago is now nearly completed. The new assembly building, paralleling the old structure, is just across the street which formerly marked the boundary line of the great Dodge Bros. factories.

Factory executives would not comment on the number of additional cars contemplated in this extensive addition, but it is believed that the immediate aim is a capacity of 1,000 cars a day. In the face of the greatly oversold condition which prevailed thruout the entire year just past, it is not unreasonable to assume that this number mentioned could be absorbed easily by Dodge Brothers dealers.

Other units of the expansion program are the new cyanide building, a million dollar addition to the power house, and a mammoth new closed body building. The latter is completed, several floors having been occupied for some time. It is estimated that the total investment represented by these additions in buildings alone will reach $5,000,000.

RED BIRD CONTINUES IN PUBLIC FAVOR

The Overland Red Bird, one of the new 1923 creations of the Willys-Overland Co., is continuing its darting flight upward in public favor with the result that the company is unable to supply the demand for the cars whose motors have won them a home in the heart of every motorist who wants a flexible, reliable power unit possessing quick pickup and permitting extremely economical operation.

The experienced driver wants an engine which will produce. This thot governed the Willys-Overland Co. engineers when they designed this car which is daily establishing new records for gasoline mileage. Not satisfied with making the Red Bird engine a living object of which the seasoned pilot could be proud, the engineers outlined a roomier body, gave the car more wheel base and provided for easy riding quality by placing 136 inches of patented triplex springs under the beautiful Mandalay maroon body to cushion occupants over the highways' bumps.

How successful Overland engineers were in their attempt to create a better touring car to operate with fuel economy is best shown by the record run made recently by Ward Orsinger when he piloted a Red Bird over the steep grades of the "Scenic Loop" near San Antonio, Tex. and averaged more than 32 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Mr. Orsinger reports he did not make unusual preparation for the run and only used the precaution which every driver, who desires to get the most mileage per gallon, should use. He inspected the brakes to see if they were free, had the powerful Red Bird motor in excellent condition, toned down the mixture in the carburetor and properly inflated the tires.

WOMAN, 85, LIKES MOTOR BIKE RIDE

Philadelphia Woman Now Bent On Airplaine Junket; She Likes to Ride Fast

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18. — "More speed!" was the cry of Mrs. Annie Vornholdt, 85 years old, of this city, who recently took her first ride in a motorcycle sidecar—a 150-mile grind at an average of 30 miles an hour.

Mrs. Vornholdt experienced a sudden longing to ride in one of the vehicles while sitting at the window of her home watching traffic. Her great-nephew, Harry Alton who owns a motorcycle outfit, made arrangements, and, to the old lady's great glee, took her for what most riders would regard as a long trip.

"Motorcycles ride better than automobiles, because there's no roof to bump your head on," was Mrs. Vornholdt's comment. "I wish I were young enough to drive one, but the best I can do is just ride along. Now I want to go up in a balloon and an airplane."

A Tribune classified add is an investment not an expense.

OTHER NATIONS PAY MORE FOR MOTOR CARS

"The motor car which sells for a few hundred dollars here, costs more than double the sum when sold to a purchaser in a foreign country," says S. J. Kurshner & Son, local dealers in Durant and Star Cars.

"This si because of the great distance the car must be shipped and the care with which it must be packed and transported. The car is partly assembled at the factory, to make as compact a parcel as possible, then carefully crated in a heavy packing case, which is padded to resist the wear and tear of being trundled in and out of the holds of steamers or shifted with cargo in stormy seas.

"Where the domestic car buyer pays only the freight to his home town with handling charges and taxes, the foreign buyer of a motor car, whether it be built in America, France, England or Italy must pay heavy ocean freight charges in addition to rail charges to the sea-board. On reaching the country of import, again there are shipping expenses to pay

"Nor does this include all added expense. Altho few countries aside from our own, build enough motor cars to export them in large numbers to supply the demand, foreign countries like to protect their manufacturers. Thus heavy import duties are levied against American-made cars entering foreign countries or their colonies.

"Here in America we have our own ideas as to how motor cars should be built. The tastes of large numbers of people seem to agree in matter of design, power and speed. As a result our manufacturers are able to produce uniform cars in large volume, all with approximately the same appearance and equipment, tho many thousands of the same model may be built in a year.

"Abroad, there is more individuality of taste. Buyers are not content to use the same fittings that American buyers desire. They wish special features to meet different conditions. They often will accept only certain makes of equipment.

"The total of expense is enormous. For instance the South American purchaser of a Star Car may pay three times the retail price of the car in the United States. Our distributors in foreign countries are much gratified to know that the citizens of other lands feel that the car is worth the payment of so large a sum.

SCHOOLBOYS BET ON HORSE RACES

LONDON, Aug. 18. — That 40 per cent of the children in the poorer districts of London regularly make bets on the races, often as low as a penny, has been revealed to the House of Commons Committee on Betting.

The chief evidence was given by "Miss Blank," a teacher in one of the poorest and most densely populated districts of London. She asked not to have her name divulged for fear of violence from the parents of her habitual young gamblers.

"The average age in my class is 11½ years," she said. "Nineteen out of the 42 boys have admitted to me that they bet regularly on horse racing. Many of them bet three and four times a week.

"On the average their bets are about a penny a time. They hand the money over to a shopkeeper, who in turn delivers it to a bookmaker. At the end of the afternoon the boys call in at the shop to collect their winnings, if any.

"They study the racing news in the newspapers regularly. They know all about the form of horses and their past records. One of my scholars informs me that he buys a 'tip' every day for threepence and sells it to his schoolfellows for one halfpenny each.

"Another boy says he is betting in order to save up enough to start himself in business. So far, he says, he has put away thirty shillings in the bank all from betting."

This lady's evidence seemed to horrify the committee, but their task is not to stop betting. It is to ascertain whether it is practicable to tax betting for revenue purposes.

Ohio Farmers To Cut Wheat Acreage

COLUMBUS Aug 18 Ohio farmers have determined to reduce their wheat acreage for next year to the present [illegible] West state [illegible] department crop reporting bureau. A national reduction in acreage of around 15 per cent is indicated, he said.

These figures are based upon reports received from all sections of the country. They may be taken as an expression of the farmers' reaction to prevailing conditions.

Doctor Calls Vermin Carriers of Cancer

PARIS, Aug 18. — Fleas and lice are cancer carriers, Dr. Bazin declared in a paper read recently before the French Academy of Sciences.

Dr Bazin placed fleas taken from a dog affected with cancer on two healthy dogs. Within a year one of the healthy dogs died of the same disease.

The co-existence of cancer in man and dogs is frequent, the doctor declared. He said he had several times discovered that both dogs and cats in homes where there were cancer patients also were affected.

MEMORIZE YOUR LICENSE NUMBER

"Do you know the license number of your motor car?" asks E. C. Rager, local Cleveland Six distributor.

"If you do," he continues, "you are one of the few who really make it their business to memorize their car number. Taken as an average about seven out of ten when asked the number of their automobile, are obliged to rummage thru their pockets and often times go as far as to look at their car to furnish the information.

"This condition should be rectified. Now if you use a motor car constantly or even occasionally it is worth studying. You would not forget the number of your house or telephone. Then why should you slight your motor car?

"Thousands of motor cars are being stolen each year. Statistics show that this number is increasing. Who knows but what your car may be one of the many this year? It is much easier to trace a car when all the numbers of that car have been furnished than it is by description only. If you do not know the numerals on your license plates as well as the motor and serial numbers, learn them today. This information may come in mighty handy when you think you have the least need for it.

CLEANLINESS IS AIM AT THE OLDS MOTOR WORKS

Executives Seek in Vain for Untidy Corner in Huge Plant at Lansing

"It takes constant supervision to keep a factory clean, no matter how hard you try," is the comment made by John M. Scott, factory manager of the Olds Motor Works, "and sometimes it takes something more than that.

"We have always prided ourselves at Lansing on having every corner of the plant as clean as it was humanly possible to keep it, and in order to keep the boys right up on their toes, we put up a little job on them. A notice was posted, stating that after a certain date, the department that was the least tidy would be decorated with a sign that said: 'This is the most untidy department in the Olds Motor Works,' and the boys were served with the information that the sign would stay where it was put until some other department let its foot slip and had the sign set up in its neighborhood.

"You should have seen how careful everybody got—even more careful than he had been before. On the date set, the committee appointed for the purpose made a tour of the plant, to see who drew the disgrace badge. But they couldn't find a single spot in all the factories of the plant that was not up to a high standard. The sign was never placed, and I don't think that it ever will be."

DODGE BROTHERS ANNOUNCE IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS

Dodge Brothers have not simply brought out a complete new line of motor cars. They have done something infinitely wiser and better than that.

They have brought new beauty, new riding ease and new mechanical perfection to the product on which their reputation as builders has been founded.

They have built a better and a more desirable line of motor cars—yet basically and fundamentally the identity of their product remains the same.

The same sturdy engine is under the hood; the same dependable chassis, improved in numberless details, underlies the body.

But the rear springs—now underslung—have been materially lengthened. The wheelbase, too, is longer, and the combined result is a notable improvement in riding qualities.

Bodies of all types have been designed to give improved appearance, and greater comfort. Lower, longer, with deeper seats and more leg room, the lines of these new cars are low-swung and graceful—the interiors are comfortable and roomy.

New head lamps and fenders, especially designed by Dodge Brothers to conform with the general lines of the car—a long straight hood and cowl effect—longer and wider running boards—unusually wide doors—combination stop signal and tail lamp—and instruments attractively grouped on raised panel—are a few of the numerous body innovations common to all types.

Combining these features with important mechanical improvements too numerous and technical to enumerate here, it is not extravagant to predict a reception for these cars unprecedented in automotive annals.

TIMELY TIPS FOR THE AUTO OWNER

By E. H. SCOTT

Watch the Kind of Parts Used in Repairs Made to Your Car

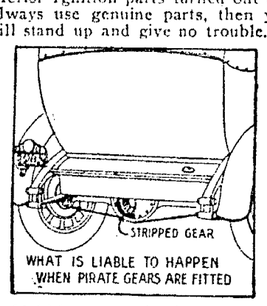

So much trouble and expense is caused to automobile owners through unscrupulous repairmen, who, for the purpose of making a few extra cents profit, use imitation, instead of genuine parts when making repairs or replacements, that this week I am going to give you a few tips that will guard you against this kind of graft.

Here is a case that came to my notice a short time ago. An owner had a knock in his engine and drove into a service station where it was diagnosed as a loose wrist pin. This particular owner knew a mechanic who worked at a certain garage, so he decided to have the work done there. In making the repair, the garageman did not use genuine factory wrist pins, but "just as good" pins put out by an imitation or pirate parts manufacturer, because they were a little cheaper. Within a short time after the repair was made, the engine commenced to knock, and was again brought to the service station. When the owner was told it was wrist pins again, he insisted the knock could not be caused by them, because they had just been renewed.

An examination was made and showed that not only was one of the pins worn badly, but it had also gouged the cylinder walls to such an extent the cylinder could not even be rebored and safely used again, and it was necessary to install a new cylinder block, a repair that cost $85.00.

Another case occurred just last week where a car had been overhauled, valves ground in, new pistons and rings fitted, and a set of new contact points fitted. The car ran all right for a few weeks, then the engine began to get hard to start and to misfire now and again. The climax came when the owner was driving along a crowded city street and suddenly the engine stopped. There he was, right in the centre of the traffic, with a line of cars banked up behind him, tooting their horns and making things generally unpleasant. The car was rolled over to the curb and a man from the service station called. He quickly found the trouble in the Ignition, and traced it to the set of imitation "just as good and a lot cheaper" contact points that had been fitted when the engine was overhauled. The thin veneer of tungsten metal had quickly burned off, leaving the steel base underneath exposed. The country is flooded with inferior Ignition parts turned out by the "pirate" parts manufacturer. Always use genuine parts, then you are assured of something that will stand up and give no trouble.

WHAT IS LIABLE TO HAPPEN WHEN PIRATE GEARS ARE FITTED

Suppose you hear a grind or hum in the rear axle, and simply say to the repair man that you want it fixed. He goes to work and tears down the axle, then tells you that a new ring gear and pinion is needed. You say all right, go ahead. He uses an imitation part. In a few weeks or months, you have the old trouble back again. Why? These gears must be very carefully hardened and heat treated. An alloy steel must be used to stand up under the extremely high pressures exerted on the teeth. Perhaps the imitation part is made from common carbon steel which was not hardened sufficiently to make it hard enough to resist wear, or was hardened too much and made brittle. What is the result. The gear that was not hardened enough soon wears and becomes noisy, and the gear that was hardened too much, breaks a tooth or perhaps the whole gear strips when a sudden strain is applied.

The genuine gear is made from an alloy steel which is tough to stand the strain, and is carefully hardened to take the wear on the face of the teeth. All of these things cannot be detected by simply glancing at the part. The real difference lies where you cannot see it. For the small difference in cost, it does not pay to allow imitation parts to be used in any repairs.

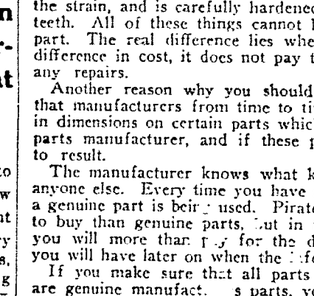

Another reason why you should buy only genuine parts, is the fact that manufacturers from time to time find it necessary to make changes in dimensions on certain parts which cannot be followed by the imitation parts manufacturer, and if these pirate parts are used, trouble is sure to result.

The manufacturer knows what kind of parts suit his car better than anyone else. Every time you have a repair made, convince yourself that a genuine part is being used. Pirate parts generally cost a few cents less to buy than genuine parts, but in the finish, if you use the pirate part, you will more than pay for the difference in the trouble and expense you will have later on when the inferior part begins to wear or breaks.

If you make sure that all parts used in any repairs or replacements are genuine manufacturers parts, you will save money in future repairs, and at the same time get more pleasure and satisfaction out of your car, because of the absence of trouble.

BUICK AIM IS FOR BETTER AUTOMOBILES

"Better automobiles" is the constant aim of every unit of the Buick organization. How well that aim is fulfilled is evidenced by the satisfaction of Buick owners everywhere. The clear sightedness of Buick designers has been rewarded by the success with which their efforts have met.

Because Buick has been ready to take fully advantage of every development in the motor industry it has constantly retained its position as a leader. The man who buys a Buick knows that he is getting a car that embodies the latest design and equipment together with the stability and endurance that are assured by twenty years of successful motor car construction. He is able to judge the whole trend of the automobile field by the developments that are brot forth by Buick. He knows that Buick links correctly and efficiently the sound principles of the past with the sound features of the present. Because of that Buick is recognized everywhere as the Standard of Comparison.

The German Music Merchants' Syndicate had lifted their boycott on French music since last January.

SAYS RELIGION IS CURE FOR WORRY

Pastor Says Animals Can't Have It, So It Must Be a Human Failing

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 18.—"Worry is a human characteristic," asserted Rev. A. W. Blackwood, local Presbyterian pastor, sermonizing on "Heart's Ease: God's Cure for Worry." The cure for worry, he said, "is divine."

"God doesn't need to worry. Animals are not capable of it. Therefore, its causes must be human," continued Rev. Dr. Blackwood. "The cure for worry is in religion. The only thing to do with God is to accept him and not worry about him. Your usefulness, your goodness, your happiness, depend on your freedom from worry. Heart's ease is almost the best gift of God. It is to be had for the asking.

"Worry is the most common disease. But, even if we worry, it's much better to do something and then fret over it than to do nothing and be at peace," said Rev. Dr. Blackwood. "The five occasions for worry are: Money, health, family, the church and the nation.

"Men worry about the money they have, but the money really has them. They worry about the money they had and lost; about the money they should have and haven't. One reason they didn't get it is because they worried about it. As for health, the best way to lose it is to worry about it. A lot of us try to do too much, when our health won't permit. Church people worry about religious affairs. The liberals are worried over the conservatives, the conservatives over the liberals, and the rest of us are worried lest their bickerings destroy the church."

Klan Makes Gift to Telephone Operator

MOUNT PLEASANT, O., Aug. 18.—Ku Klux Klan members here presented Mrs. Ernest Slider, formerly Miss Madge Bowers, with a set of silverware in appreciation of her services as village telephone operator prior to her marriage.

The unique presentation occurred during a shower given by women friends. Three robed men appeared at the gathering and handed Mrs. Slider the gift. When a local bank was held up last February, and an employe slain, Mrs. Slider, in charge of the telephone exchange, sounded an alarm. The exchange is on the second floor of the bank building.

The Tribune, thru the courtesy of Johnston Brothers, will run each Sunday a column pertaining to automobiles. The purpose of this column is that the automobile owners may ask any questions which they care to ask and they will be answered from time to time in this column. Address all questions to The Tribune.

Q.—What number and names of valves are employed in four cycle engines?

ANS.—There are at least two valves for each cylinder in all four cycle gasoline engines, an inlet valve and an exhaust valve. Some four cycle engines have four valves for each cylinder, two inlet valves and two exhaust.

Q.—What kinds of valves are in use?

ANS.—There are three types of the valves in use, the poppet, sleeve and rotary. The poppet type is the one in general use.

Q.—What is the use of valeline in connection with storage batteries?

ANS.—Valeline prevents acid or acid fumes from coming in contact with terminals and prevents corrosion.

Q.—What will cause sulphation of battery plates?

ANS.—Lack of charge will cause sulphation and harding of plates.

Alleged K. K. K. Member Is Jailed By English

NEWCASTLE, Stratfordshire, Eng., Aug. 18.—If there is a Ku Klux Klan in England the courts are going to be hard on it, if the case of George Bosson is any criterion.

Bosson was haled into court charged with blackmail. It was alleged that he was connected with the dispatch of a letter to Mrs. Emily Margaret Harrison demanding $500 and purporting to be from a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

The judge committed Bosson for trial and refused him bail.

MARINERS HIT BY DEPRESSED BRITISH TRADE

Many Able Officers Unable to Find Work Despite Abilities

(By F. A. WRAY)
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 18. -- Twelve thousand British mercantile marine officers are out of employment because of Britain's trade depression.

These figures include more than 1,500 captains, many of whom have commanded big ships. The remainder are first, second and third mates, chief and junior engineers.

Out of posts through no fault of their own, some of them for so long as two years, many in desperation are taking jobs before the mast. Many a tramp steamer today has in the fo'c'stle a man who not only holds his master's "ticket" but who has been known as a captain of distinction.

A tour through the districts around the London docks—Limehouse, Poplar, Stepney—quickly produces harrowing tales of distress among these men who, in years gone by, particularly in the war, have rendered signal service to their country.

MANY NEED HELP

"We assisted over 6,000 cases of distress among sailors last year," said H. E. Parker, secretary of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society, "and included among them were great numbers of officers.

"Some of these officers are in such straits that they are glad of the price of a meal.

"We cannot, on account of low funds, allow them much more than five dollars a week. What is the good of this to a man with a home and family? If we could we should like to give them five hundred dollars apiece to tide them over their bad time. The majority of them did wonderful service for their country during the war.

"Unfortunately the outlook for the future is blacker than ever. The terrible slump in shipping, due to bad trade and loss of markets formerly British, seems likely to increase rather than diminish. The only palliative suggested so far is that, for a period of say, five years, no fresh apprentices should be allowed to enter the merchant service, so that the numbers available shall not be swelled until trade improves."

One finds these men desperately anxious for work, but with no prospects, not only around the docks, but waiting patiently at the doors of shipowners' offices. Weather-beaten and shabby, all still remain spotlessly clean and neat. They do their best to look cheerful, but many of them are hungry.

SHIP AS "A. B. S."

Talking with these little groups of mariners, hoping against hope that a turn of fortune will bring them a ship of their own, instead of having to sink to the status of a deckhand, one hears pitiful stories.

"I am 45 and have commanded a ship of my own since I was thirty," said one captain. "There is nothing against my record, and I twice received the thanks of the British Government for war services. But I have been out of a berth for nearly two years, and I see nothing in prospect except to take the job of an ordinary 'A. B. S. 'And I scarcely know where the next meal is coming from.

"I have had to sell out my home, piece by piece, to keep the family in food. The piano and gramophone went first, and the rest of the furniture soon followed. I have had to take my children away from their schools.

"I am too old to take up other work. I know how to run a big ship, but I have had no other experience. I don't know what is going to become of us."

This plain, bald statement, uttered with the utmost simplicity and no attempt at exaggeration, is typical of the stories one hears on all sides from these men who, previously, have been regarded as the backbone of Britain.

And all the time the clouds around them seem to be gathering more thickly, and unless there is a speedy settlement in Europe that will revive Britain's export trade they see no hope in the future.

Clamps have been invented for attachment to garden hose that enable it to be coiled for handling or storage without the use of a reel.

REDUCTION IN PRICES BY WILLYS-OVERLAND

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 18—John N. Willys, President of the Willys-Overland Company, Toledo, Ohio, today caused a furor in automobile circles by his announcement of immediate pr eercuitdonnsd icam immediate price reductions and great improvements in the 1923 Willys-Overland lines.

This action embarcing a drop in price on the Willys-Knight touring car and roadster models from $1235 to $1175, F. O. B. factory and on the Willys-Knight Coupe-Sedan from $1595 to $1550, came as a distinct surprise to the automobile industry and motoring public in view of the advance in price made by not a few manufacturers in announcing their 1924 models.

The new values in Willys-Knight and Overland cars are the direct result of the wonderful sales and production records made by the Willys-Overland Company this year, eclipsing any previous period in its history, which determined the officials of the company to share with the public the appreciable saving in costs made possible by an enormous increase in business.

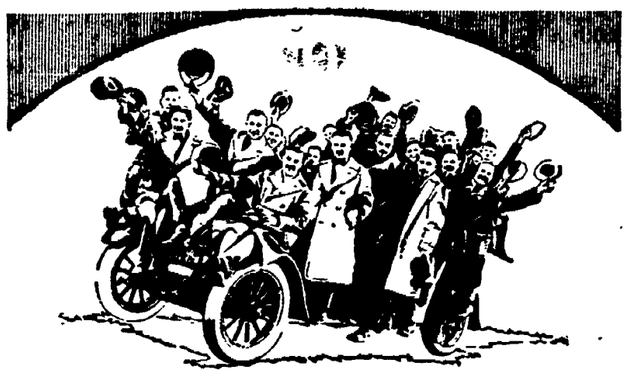

Mr. Willys added that in every detail all the advantages of the Willys-Knight car have been retained, while improvements have been added, making this car, powered with the famous Willys-Knight sleeve-valve motor, a bigger value than ever before.

This announcement has great significance because it marks a new valuation record for automobile products in the face of a generally rising market in raw materials.

INSPECTION OF THE UNIVERSAL JOINT

Systematic inspection should be made of the universal joint at regular intervals, and if the housing is distorted or loose, or the shaft out of alignment, grease plugs or bolts loose or missing, lubricant packing worn, yokes or spline shaft damaged, or any other deviation from its normal condition, then the same should be corrected at once. This unit is a highly perfected piece of mechanism, and if given proper attention, will render efficient service, even if it does operate under adverse conditions.

In the fabric tyue, lubrication is not required, the only attention necessary being to see that the bolts attaching the discs to the spiders are kept tight. After a few hundred miles of service, it is advisable to go over the bolts, removing the cotter pins and pulling up on each nut if there is the slightest sign of looseness. Generally no further attention is required, but it is well to examine the bolts every five thousand miles to see that they are still tight. If, during the inspection, discs are discovered which are charred, split, worn or stretched excessively they should be replaced. — Automobile Digest.

21 People and Steep Hill Can't Stop Oldsmobile~

The above drawing (made from actual photograph) shows 21 men riding an Oldsmobile Four up West Dugway Hill in Rochester, N. Y.

From a standing start in high gear, the car carried its human cargo, weighing 3,368 pounds, to the top without a falter—every inch of the way in high gear.

It is unreasonable to expect any five-passenger car to carry 21 people, but Oldsmobile Four has earned such a name for power and strength that owners take delight in demonstrating its amazing performance.

Oldsmobile Four is unquestionably the finest automobile that ever sold for $975.

Better Than Riches

UNDER the dome of the Board of Trade in Manchester, England, is this inscription: "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." The thought is considerably more than mere sentiment. It is good business.

A good name is recognized as the biggest individual asset a business can have. It is the very keystone of modern industry. Business to-day is done on such a broad scale—evry merchant and every manufacturer has such a long list of customers—that it would not do to have a reputation for "slipping something over."

Advertising has standardized almost every article you can buy. You don't have to bargain and dicker and haggle to know that you are getting as good as you give.

That's why it pays to read the advertisements and to buy advertised goods. A product's advertising is the best guarantee of its faithful performance and lasting usefulness or of its definite value. The advertiser would not dare to risk his good name by advertising an unworthy product.

If you value constant satisfaction—if you want to get your money's worth every time—read the advertisements and buy advertised merchandise.

KLANSMAN

ed the machines and beat up 50 members of the organization. All of them came from what is known as the 'old fifth ward' now the fourth ward of Steubenville. The fact that the Klan placed four of its men in offices—altho it lost out on the mayoralty candidate—goaded the opposition to this desperate action."

That Governor A. V. Donahey was Saturday visited by a delegation of prominent Steubenville business men, requesting that he take action immediately in removing Mayor Hawkins and Chief of Police Blaine Carter, was the report made by Irwin. They not only presented Ohio's chief executive with affidavits and depositions concerning the disturbance of Wednesday evening, but also a mass of evidence on the city officials alleged negligence in enforcing the laws in the city and even of conniving at law breaking. These affidavits have been gathered from time to time in the past, but mainly since the Ku Klux Klan conducted a vice clean up in the city last May.

"Prejudice, false notions and the lack of any knowledge about the principles for which the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan stand, paved the way for mob violence in Steubenville," the Klan editor stated. "Otherwise, the members of the gang would not have gone so far as to tear the American flags from machines, and even trample them under foot."

As evidence that the Klan is growing rapidly in Ohio, Mr Irwin stated that by September 1, The Ohio Fiery Cross, to be published in Columbus, and devoted entirely to the interests of Buckeye Klansmen, will supplant the present Ohio edition of the Indianapolis publication.

GAS PRICE IN S. D. STILL 16c

CHICAGO, Aug 18 Few stations in South Dakota have advanced the price of gasoline from 15 to 20 cents despite Gov W H McMasters' agreement with independent producers, according to advices received today by the Standard Oil Co, of Indiana The board of directors decided to let the Chicago price remain at 15.4 cents and to make no advance in South Dakota until it was learned that other companies would raise their rates

As soon as it is completed, it will be given out for publication, grange officers announced Saturday.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO CARRY FANS IF 400 OR MORE GO

Excursion tickets to Mansfield and return on Sunday, August 26, were selling rapidly Saturday. The Coshocton Regulars play the Richland-co aggregation on that date.

A special train will carry the Coshocton baseball team and fans to Mansfield. The train will stop at Warsaw, Walhonding and Mohawk for fans who care to make the trip.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. demands the sale of 400 tickets before it will provide a special train. The train will leave Coshocton at 9:15 o'clock. Four hundred tickets must be sold by the middle of next week, so the railroad company can estimate on the number of cars needed. The American Legion band will accompany the team to Mansfield.

The round trip fare will be $2 55. The regular round-trip fare is $4.60.

This game will no duobt be one of the hardest fought of the season as Mansfield is only a few points behind the Regulars. If Mansfield wins today and Coshocton loses, the race for second position will be at stake.

The local management believes 400 or more will make the trip The Regulars are scheduled at Mansfield next Saturday, but will play only the Sunday game this trip. Mansfield may come to Coshocton to play off the other scheduled game. Mansfield and Coshocton have other postponed games to play before the season closes.

Excursion tickets are on sale at the following places: Central pool room, Dinty Moore's place, Billy Wills' place, Park View pool room Brunswick, Todd & Mohler grocery, and at Robertson's drug store.

ORGANIZATION OF STEEL WORKERS TO CONTINUE, REPORT

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18—Efforts of the A. F. of L. to organize the steel workers will not be halted by inauguration of the 8-hour day, organizers said today.

Mass meetings of steel workers in Cleveland, Lorain and other points thruout the district are scheduled for the next few weeks and the effort to enroll the unorganized workers under the banner of the union will continue unabated, he revealed.

Organizer Olson said that individual solicitation of men employed in the industry had already resulted in large accessions but that the holding of mass meetings was counted upon to secure the adhesion to the union of practically men working in the steel plants.

MINE CONTROVERSY TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, Aug 17 -- Both sides in the anthracite coal controversy were preparing today to lay their cases before President Coolidge Whether their representations to the whitehouse are to be made thru the United States Coal Commission, which is now expected to report to the president anyway or whether each side will lay its case before the president individually was not announced The latter action may be expected according to reports from the council chamber

The operators headed by Samuel D Warriner and miners headed by John L Lewis are apparently unable to bring the warring sides to a decision

NEW COMPANY TO REBUILD MOSCOW

Ango-American Concern Has Million Dollars Capital for Big Enterprises

MOSCOW, Aug. 18. —The eventual rebuilding of Moscow has been brot a step nearer by the formation of an Anglo-Russian company with a million-dollar capital for the purpose of conducting building operations on a large scale.

Most of the capital has been subscribed by Americans and Britishers, and it is intended that American and British labor shall be solely employed.

The rebuilding program includes the reconstruction of the great Korch Theatre in the center of the city, which is to be completely demolished and re-erected at an approximate cost of $750,000, and the rebuilding of one of the largest Moscow hotels, which is sorely needed.

The hotel will be nine stories high, will have 400 rooms, a roof garden, elevators, and an American restaurant.

Several fine apartment buildings will also be erected, and altogether, when finished, the new buildings will be a revelation to Moscow citizens, who since the revolution have almost forgotten what living in up-to-date flats is like and how a new building looks.

TAKE YOUR CORN TO A 'PODIATRIST'

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 — Been to the podiatrist lately? No, it is not a new term for bootlegger, but it is the dignified way to refer to a doctor of the foot, in other words, a chiropodist.

The twelfth annual convention of the National Association of Chiropodists in recent convention here well nigh split up over the new term. A thousand delegates took sides as to whether chiropodist or podiatrist should henceforth be painted on the shingles of the foot doctor.

Dr. Emanuel Demeur, of Chicago, led the chiropodic faction, defending the older term on the ground that chiropodists had won the support, sympathy and admiration of the public. His faction pointed out that a person with a troublesome corn would limp right up a podiatrist sign and keep hunting for cheering sign of chiropodist.

On the other hand the podiatrist faction declare that chiropodist means nothing more nor less than an old-fashioned "corn doctor," and they want to get away from this rather vulgar connection with corns and bunions.

Dr. R. H. Gross, registrar of the first institute of podiatry of this city, brot out before the convention that wearing absurdly high heels is a menace to the health of American women. "Skyscrapper" heels bring about a mal-alignment in the bodies of women which unfit them for motherhood, it was stated.

"High heels," Dr. Gross declared, "cause a woman to stand in such a way that her health is often undermined and the result is often nervous diseases of the type of hysteria."

Dr. Gross said heels should not be more than one-half inch in height.

ENGLISH LABOR PROTESTS NAVY BASE AT SINGAPORE AS THREAT OF FUTURE WAR

BY LUTHER A. HUSTON

International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 17—Is Britain's plan for a great naval base at Singapore a bulwark of the Empire's defense on a gesture of preparation for thhe next war.

This issue was clearly raised by opponents of the scheme during the debate in thhe House of Commons which preceded passage of the naval vote for funds to construct the Singapore stronghold. Arguments that fortification of Singapore signals the beginning of a new race of armaments that will lead England into war either with America or with Japan were hurled at the government by parliamentarians opposed to spending huge sums to develop the proposed naval base in the Pacific.

Counter arguments of government supporters, of course, disclaimed all purpose of building for another war and protested Britain's peaceful intentions. The vigor of the attack, however, left no room for doubt that much sentiment exists in responsible British public opinion that the Singapore plan is merely a continuation of the armament race which culminated in 1914 in the great World War.

Labor led the attack upon the Singapore scheme, with many Liberal members supporting the Laborites. The Labor men frankly charged the government with preparing for a new war and warned that the workers of the country would not rally to the support of the nation as they did in the last great conflict.

"The working people of this country are convinced that the time has come for making a more definite stand against war," said Jack Jones, ever an outspoken champion of Labor's policies. "Let those who make wars fight them, for the workers won't."

The specter of a race war between the white man and the yellow races was raised by several speakers. Captain John Hay, a Laborite, was among them.

"After the greatest of all wars, a war to end war," he said, "we are looking forward to and preparing for another war which may mean the end of the white man. This base can only be meant against one power, Japan. Our people would never tolerate the idea of war with America. That being so, the war, when it comes, will be a race war, white against yellow, and the yellow man probably will be reinforced by the black. The government is throwing out a challenge that will stimulate naval armaments in Japan and in the Dutch East Indies. The government is gambling with the fate of the Empire."

George Lambert, a Liberal, likewise saw a threat of war with Japan in the government's proposal. "I hate to talk about a war with Japan," he declared, "but this scheme makes one think of it."

The government's contention that the Singapore base was needed for the defense of the Empire was openly scoffed at by Alfred Short, one of the leaders of the Labor party.

"Against whom is this defense needed?" he asked. "Similar policies have been pursued hitherto by European nations and it has not dispelled the fears, suspicions and hatreds that have been engendered and have culminated in war. We have no guarantee that we shall develop this base merely as a defense for our trade and that it will not end finally in war."

Government supporters did not deny the charge that the possibility of future wars was a consideration figuring in the Singapore proposal. Preparation for war as a guarantee of peace was frankly urged by several Conservative members.

"For heaven's sake, be prepared for war," was the admonition hurled by Admiral Sir Guy Gaunt, a veteran fighter of the British navy. "A base at Singapore is important for peace purposes and if you don't keep abreast of the times you are going under. Let us keep our Empire. Give us Singapore and you will then be fairly safe it is on the direct line to Australia."

Admiral Gaunt's view was supported by Sir Frederick Banbury in a candid Tory broadside

"The only precaution for peace and against war is to prepare for war and to show other countries that we intend to protect our position," he said "If England will learn the lessons of the war we will have a strong army and navy."

Strong attacks also were made against the proposal by members who argued that the cost would eventually far exceed the original estimate of approximately $50,000,000 Commander Kenworthy, a Liberal contended that it would be necessary to double the fleet and build up a strong air force "to defend this nerve center of the Empire" Kenworthy declared that if there was danger of a war with Japan Singapore was a strong strategical point, but he scoffed at the idea that England ever would fight Japan

Lady Astor also raised a protest against the plan, albeit the protest was a mild one She expressed regret that the governemnt had not waited until after the Imperial Conference, which is to be held soon, before considering the base at Singapore. She declared, however, that if "we are really to have a progressive civilization the Anglo-Saxon has got to police the world."

MEAGRE SALARY IS BLAMED FOR CASHIER'S FALL

DAYTON, Aug. 18.—"I'm ready to take my medicine."

Fred W. Hecht, who augmented his $3,000 a year salary as cashier and second vice-president of the American National Bank by forged papers totalling $315,000 in the past five years, in his first interview since his arrest, said late today that he is glad at last to face th music.

He expressed reat pleasure that depositors would lose nothing and that The Merchants National Bank, which took over the assets of the wrecked concern had experienced no "run" today, but rather depositors in the American National had increased their deposits.

"Of course this is a terrible thing for my family and friends," he said. "I am sorry the blow had to fall, but I knew it was coming sooner or later and didn't try to dodge it"

Hecht declared he had plenty of opportunities for flight. He blamed his downfall on the small salary he received and the social demands made upon a man occupying such a responsible position.

COAL STRIKE IS TO BE PREVENTED WITH EVEN FORCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Plain warning was served tonight on the operators and miners of the anthracite coal fields that the United States government will resort to legal force, if necessary to avert a strike September 1.

Following a conference between President Coolidge and members of the federal coal commission, it was announced that, should the new conference of miners and operators opening at Atlantic City Monday, fail to reach a new wage contract or agreement to continue operation of the mines, the commission will "undertake to fix what it believes to be the responsibility and make such recommendations to the president as under the circumstances and the law it may deem appropriate."

The members are Glen Holdsworth, Robert Mizer, Ralph Norman, William Apple, Harry Gaskill, and William Maxwell. A. E. Halterman, agricultural teacher is leader.

OHIO STANDS HIGH IN RURAL LEADERS

Ohio is second in number of rural leaders sufficiently prominent to be listed in "Rus", the Who's Who of the American Countryside. Of a total of 4,342 leaders so listed, 306 were Ohio born. Not all of these leaders are still in the state. Listed by the number now resident, Ohio stands seventh in the Union, with 140 names.

This argues that the state is supplying leaders of the agricultural movement to all of the nation, comments C. E. Lively, professor of rural problems at the Ohio State University, who made the compilation from "Rus" on a state basis, so as to find whether the agricultural rank of a state in 1880 has since had any bearing on its contribution to national rural leadership.

The study is not yet completed. The count shows, however, that the greatest number of rural leaders, so far, have been supplied by the older states with a permanent agriculture. New York leads, with 405 of those listed in "Rus" having been born there. Then comes Ohio, with 306; Illinois with 297; Pennsylvania with 251; Iowa with 244; Wisconsin, 210; Michigan, 200.

Listing the leaders by their present location, irrespective of their place of birth, the greatest number are found in Washington, D. C., at the offices of the federal department of agriculture. New York follows with 324, just two less than are in the District of Columbia. Pennsylvania is third with 179, and then come Illinois, 175; California, 172; and Minnesota, 171.

L. H. Bailey, compiler of "Rus" is a former dean of the New York State College of Agriculture.

TEX. MOB SEIZES MURDER SUSPECT

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., Aug. 18. —Police early today searched this city and the surrounding countryside for Clay Dunn, prominent local man, who was seized by a mob of men last night and spirited away in an auto, after he had made bond in connectio nwit hthe alleged murder of B. A. Harris, policeman.

The mob held officers at bay with firearms and seized Dunn as he left the jail following making of bond.

Smears of blood were found on the pavement near the place.

Harris was killed Thursday night by an unidentified assassin as he was driving the police wagon. R. B. Brown, groceryman, is also held in connection wit hthe killing.

TO DEMONSTRATE MILK DIET VALUE

Special Session of World's Dairy Congress Will Be Held in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18. —How quarts are turned into pounds—the quarts relating to milk and the pounds to the gain in weight of the milk addict who makes this form of bibulousness his rule of health —will be demonstrated at a special session of the World's Dairy Congress to be held here October 4. The congress, which is an international convention meeting for a week in Washington, and which will be attended by delegates of dairy industries from countries all over the world, will convene for one day here for a program arranged by the National Dairy Council, which represents the educational activities of state and local dairymen's organizations.

This session will be devoted to a display of the methods by which the council is promoting an increased use of milk in American homes, and especially among school children all over the country. It is allied co-operatively with a number of other health organizations in the effort to raise standards of individual health efficiency and to stimulate interest in national health progress. One of the speakers at the Philadelphia meeting will be Miss Sally Lucas Jean, director of the health education division of the Amreican Child Health Association, a national organization working for the improvement of methods of teaching health for children of all ages. Miss Jean assisted in developing plans for the movement which resulted in the calling of the first International Health Education Conference recently held in San Francisco, which brot together for discussion of common aims the leading health and educational authorities of more than 30 nations.

FAKE LOVE CENSOR FOILED BY YOUTH

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 18. — Frank Howard, self appointed chaperon of "lovers' lane," having had his activities curtailed by the police, young swains and their sweethearts here are breathing easier. The exposure of the would-be guardian of the lane came when Howard, posing as a "special officer" was arrested after he had "shaken down" a youth sitting in the park with a girl.

According to the complaining lover Howard came upon the pair suddenly. The "officer" said he would arrest the lovers unless money was forthcoming. The youth said he had no money but would get it. Marking a $20 bill the supposed victim gave it to the "chaperon," but other officers were present in the background and arrested Howard.

WANTS CREMATION MADE ATTRACTIVE

PARIS, Aug. 18 — M. Loyau, member of the Paris city council, wants to make crematioin ceremonies in Perc Lachaise cemetery more attractive.

The waiting room of the incinerator is too bare, cold, damp and disagreeable. Loyau said in outlining to the council a proposition to heat the room, properly furnish it and provide free music for all cremation ceremonies.

Loyau's chief argument was that the more attractive cremation exercises were made the more valuable room would be saved in Paris cemeteries. Opponents pointed out that cremation is forbidden by the Catholic Church, therefore it would be limited to French and foreign Protestants in Paris, and the expense would be unwarranted.

ALLEGED BANDIT WRITES MOTHER

CINCINNATI, Aug. 18 — Mrs. Hulda McCoy, now living in this city, mother of Ray McCoy, Athens, Ohio, reported to have robbed a bank in Denver, Colo., yesterday, said she had received a letter two days ago from her son in Denver. She said the boy had left Athens some time ago to work in Akron rubber factories.

FIRE CONTROLLED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18—With the monster fire in the General Petroleum Corporation, which burst into flames yesterday, apparently under control, an army of fire fighters who had struggled with the rivers of flame thruout the night, stood by today, should an unexpected change in the wind cause further spread of the flames.

No casualties have been suffered, and no homes in nearby districts have been damaged, the hundreds of residents fled hurriedly when it seemed certain it would get beyond control.

BATTLESHIPS ARE BACK FROM CRUISE

NORFOLK, Vir. Aug. 18—After arriving direct from Giberalter during the night, the Battleships Arkansas, Florida, North Dakota and Delaware and the supply ship Orion are at anchor at the naval operating base today. The first, second and third classes of midshipmen from the United States naval academy at Annapolis are aboard fter their annual summer cruise in European waters.

After bunkering and taking on supplies from the base, the battleships will go to the target grounds off thhe Virginia Cape next Tuesday where they will begin a two-day short range target practice.

The work will be done entirely by the midshipmen.

Shore leave will probably be given the Annapolis men while in port.

The North Dakota, which formerly claimed Norfolk as her home is in cluded in the list of ships for decommissioning under the Washington armament limitation conference treaty, and it is probable that she will end her days as a target for bombs and naval guns under the waters off the Capes.

"THE OREGON TRAIL"

It Will Hold You to Your Seat Spellbound

LOCALS STACK UP AGAINST AFEFAS SUNDAY ON THE LATTER'S HOME DIAMOND

Cambridge today will be the scene of another hard fought game, is the opinion of fans from both Coshocton and Cambridge.

The Afefas and the Coshocton Regulars will tangle. The Regulars have conquered the Guernsey-co hopes in three consecutive games this season. In the last game at Cambridge, the Regulars came from behind and won out in the tenth.

Manager Robertson will pin his hopes in Orve Rea.

Rosnick will be on deck to step into the fracas if need be. Rasnick tamed Jim Vaughn and his tribe and may have a chance at the McCoymen.

Vance Greber will get a chance today to show his wares. Manager Robertson did not want Greber to play Thursday because he had just recovered from a sprained ankle. The Coshocton outfield is new to Greber and is none too smooth.

Many fans from this city will accompany the team to Cambridge. The roads are in good shape.

Cambridge has secured almost an entirely different lineup since the Regulars met them a few weeks ago at Cambridge. Pitcher Ernst, who hurled a game against Thomas Stull's Coshocton team two years ago, is a new addition to the Afefa roster, and "Lefty" Gantz, formerly of Canton is now with Cambridge.

Last Thursday the Afefas journeyed to Caldwell and defeated the Noble-co All Stars, 6 to 5. The Caldwell nine has won two out of three games from the Mark Greys.

Here is how the two teams will line up Sunday: Coshocton—Atchison, lf; Evans, 3b; Edwards, 2b; Storch, cf; Unger, rf; Witt, ss; Gygli, 1b; Hildebrant, c; Greber, o. f., Rea or Rasnick, p. K. DELIGHTFUL PARTY ON SWIGERT LAWN

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Swigert, Cross-st, delightfully entertained a number of young people at their home one evening last week with a garden party in honor of their daughter, Dorothea's eighteenth birthday anniversary.

The spacious lawn at the Swigert home was artistically decorated with flowers and Japanese lanterns. Dancing was enjoyed on the entire length of the driveway. At the extreme end of the lawn a small tent was erected, in which Mrs. Lorin Vogenitz in typical gypsy disguise, imparted the secrets of the future to each guest.

Little Doris May King, of Salem, O., entertained the guests with fancy dancing. Confetti and serpentine added a festive air to the evening.

A grand march took place and each lady held a Japanese lantern, while the gentlemen wore hats topped with miniature umbrellas.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Stephon, Mrs. J. G. Gamble and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lyons assisted the host and hostess. Those who joined with Miss Dorothea in celebrating her birthday were—The Misses Florence Dreese, Aurora, O., Lucille Ludman, Zanesville, Viola Week, Clarksburg, W. Va., Cecil Stocker, Cecile Lauber, Margery Marshall, Dover, Donna and Fredda Riggle, Port Washington, Helen Gefellers, Ruth Davis, Henrietta Vogenitz, Almena Yingling, Jen Eva Raine, Mary Barnett, Mary Hayes, Dorothy Schwab, Mary Mulvane, Etta Taylor, Nellie Daniels, Helen Mills, Thelma Nicodemus, Floride Kistler, Agnes Houser, Messrs. Harold Bowen, Paul Rufenacht, Pete Leiser, Marvin Bair, Hobert Kobelt, Clarence Stocker, Thomas Price, of Dover, Lloyd Huff, Harold Bretzius, Daniel Price, Ferguson MacMillan, Herbert Prosser, Ralph Heister, Kenneth Phillips, Howard Kaden, John West, Wilbur Dayton, Russell Taylor, Russell McQueen, Alfred Gamble, Samuel Daugherty, Ernest Hinds, Allen Davis and Elvin Hannahs.

RED MEN FROM COSHOCTON WIN

The Newcomerstown Independents came out on the small end of a 9 to 0 game staged at Warner Field Saturday afternoon with Thomas Stull's Red Men of the Fraternal League, Coshocton.

Sheets was on the slab for the Newcomerstown Independents and Rodman hurled for the Indians. Errors blasted the Independents' hopes of winning. Both Rodman and Sheets pitched good ball.

ITINERANT MUSICAL ARTISTS ENTERTAIN

Three musicians on a motor truck on Main-st, kept the attention of scores of pedestrians Saturday afternoon for more than an hour. The musicians entertained with many popular musical numbers.

The music came from a piano, a violin and guitar.

CURE FOR CANCER IS PROMISED FOR NEW INSTRUMENT

A machine for the treatment of disease known as Dr. Abram's Electronic Radio Vibratory treatment has been installed by Dr. M. H. Goodhart, Chiropractor and Neuro-Magnetist, 6th and walnut sts.

The principle of the machine is that each disease causes a different vibration rate in the human blood and by testing the patient's blood the affliction can be determined. With the cause of the patient's trouble diagnosed a corresponding radio vibratory treatment is given. Claims for the machine include the cure of cancer, tuberculosis, high blood pressure, heart trouble and many other diseases that have hitherto been considered troublesome.

Attempts to fool the machine by introduction of animal blood for the test have been exposed instantly by the mechanism which showed that it was not human blood.

New Philadelphia, on August 18. A big time was enjoyed. A picnic dinner featured the day.

FIERCE TYPHOON STRIKES CHINA

LONDON, Aug. 18—Many lives are believed to have been lost in the region of Hong Kong during the worst typhoon in history, said a Central News dispatch from Hong Kong this afternon.

The storm lasted an hour, during which the wind blew 130 miles an hour.

The Steamer Mingsang is reported to have been sunk in the harbor with the loss of all hands. The British Sub LX was sunk and so far as known, only one member of the crew was saved.

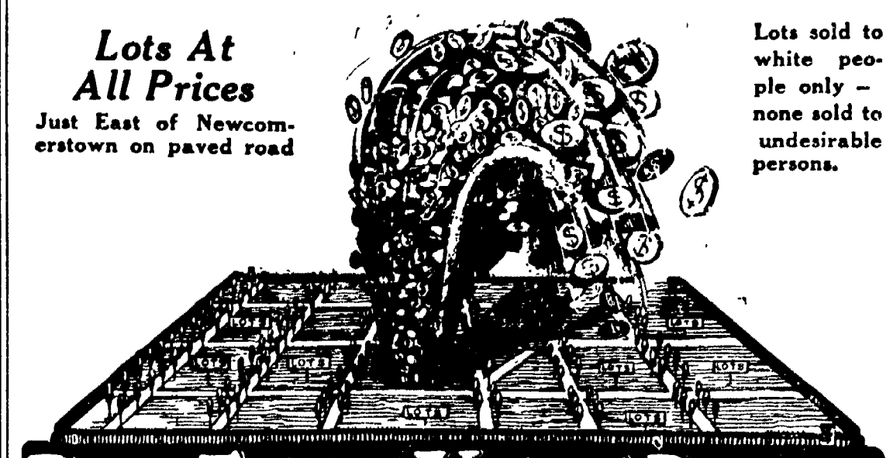

Two Japanese steamers were driven ashore. Many other ships were wrecked. The coast is strewn with debris.

Is Bound Over

John Wilden, of this city, held to his plea in Justice D. W. Bassett's court last night that he was not guilty of the charge of using profane language, preferred by Mrs. Leone Montgomery, also of this city. He was bound over to common pleas court after furnishing $100 bond.
